Philadelphia.

W. H. RHODES,
PHOTOGRAPHER,
No. 1800 Frankford Ave.,
Corner Montgomery Avenue,
PHILADELPHIA

The Illuminated Photograph
IN GREAT VARIETY
Particular attention given to
LARGE PHOTOGRAPHS
Oil Crayon India Ink and Water Colors
Established and in successful operation since 1860 158

JAMES P. WOOD & CO.,
41 SOUTH FOURTH STREET,
PHILADELPHIA,
Low Pressure Steam and Hot Water Heating Apparatus, with Gold's Patent Cast-Iron Radiators Wood's American Kitchener, and Paris Ranges.
GRIFFITHS' PATENT ARCHIMEDIAN VENTILATORS
Steam Fitting in all its branches
JAMES P. WOOD & CO.,
41 South Fourth Street, Philadelphia.

NEW YORK DENTAL ROOMS,
414 North Sixth Street,
PHILADELPHIA.

ALL operations of the profession performed with promptness and in a manner to defy competition Teeth carefully filled from 50c to $1 00 Beautiful Artificial Teeth inserted on all the different bases now in use from $7 00 to $20 00 All work warranted

DR. J. W. STOUGHTON,
414 North Sixth Street,
3.4 PHILADELPHIA

DR. J. W. A. BIRKEY,
SURGEON DENTIST,
RESPECTFULLY begs his patrons and the public that he continues to practice his profession at No 242 N Eighth Street, Philadelphia, three fifth door below Locust Street and that he is prepared to perform all the most difficult and intricate operations appertaining to Dentistry He also administers all the Gases for the positive relief of pain in the extracting of teeth, being the first who dared to bring it into use in his profession in the State of Pennsylvania He likewise sets every description of Artificial Teeth (but especially the Terra Metallic of which he is the discoverer and inventor), in the most satisfactory manner to the wearer Extracting Teeth a specialty 102

HENRY O'BRIEN,
Ten years with A T Stewart & Co New York
Late foreman with I F Walraven, Philadelphia
UPHOLSTERER,
Furniture
Window Shades, Draperies and Cornices, Hair and Spring Mattresses to order.
Lace Curtains Cleaned and Hung equal to new 234 N 16th Street, Philadelphia
Prompt attention given to all orders 130

BANNISTER'S.
THE CHEAPEST PLACE FOR
BOOTS AND SHOES.
Head Centre for
GUM BOOTS AND SHOES, ALL KINDS
4223 MAIN STREET, FRANKFORD. 164

C. F. WEBER,
Dealer in
FURNITURE,
Carpets, Oil Cloths, Window Shades, &c.,
531 N. Second St., Opposite Buttonwood,
PHILADELPHIA "8
"CHEW "GREY EAGLE" FINE CUT.

WILLIAM A. BACKHUS,
Grocer and Tea Dealer,
N. E. CORNER THIRD AND SOUTH STS.,
PHILADELPHIA
Hams, Fish and Flour specialties 100

HAMS.
FINEST SUGAR CURED HAMS
13 Cts. per pound.
MAGUIRE'S
224 South Street, Philadelphia
99

JOHN REYLE,
Merchant Tailor,
No. 1033 North Second Street,
Corner of Germantown Ave,
PHILADELPHIA. 935

R. E. WRIGHT & SON,
STEAM
SCOURING and DYEING ESTABLISHMENT,
4508 MAIN STREET, 4508
FRANKFORD PA
Clothing repaired and altered 145

A. STINEMETZ,
1029 Ridge Avenue, Philadelphia, Pa.,
MARBLE MANTLES MONUMENTS AND GRAVE STONES 218

WILLIAM FOX,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
AND
Men's Furnishing Goods.
NO. 230 NORTH SECOND STREET,
PHILADELPHIA 94

CHEW "GREY EAGLE" FINE CUT.

J. B. BUTTERFIELD'S
MAMMOTH
GROUND FLOOR
PHOTOGRAPH GALLERY,
518 Frankford Road,
PHILADELPHIA.
☞ No stairs to climb

The Bucks County Gazette.

VOL. IV—NO. 3. BRISTOL, BUCKS COUNTY, PA., THURSDAY, AUGUST 24, 1876. WHOLE NO. 159.

Trenton.

MAHAN & ELY
HAVE REMOVED TO
46 Greene Street, Trenton, N. J.,
Opposite Hill's Confectionery where they are selling
DRY GOODS
AT EXTREMELY LOW PRICES viz

The very best Calicoes ordinary styles, choice styles	6c 8c
Heavy yard wide Unbleached Muslins	8c
Wamsutta and others of the very best Bleached Muslins	12½
Fruit of Loom,	10c

In constant receipt of the choicest styles and new DRESS GOODS at corresponding prices
MERCHANT TAILORING A SPECIALTY.
341

GLASSWARE GIVEN AWAY
AT
ASSANPINK TEA STORE,
No. 7, Assanpink Block, Trenton.
A SPLENDID DIAMOND CUT GLASS SET of Four Pieces Given Away! Handsome Cut Glass Preserve Butter and Fruit Dishes also given away with various quantities of Tea and Coffee.
JAMES CRICHTON,
Late Manager Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company
520

WILLIAM F. PATRICK,
DEALER IN
WALL AND CURTAIN PAPER,
Window Shades,
Decorations of Every Description,
36 NORTH WARREN STREET,
TRENTON, N J
☞ All orders from city or country will receive prompt attention 302

NICK J. MINERT,
Dealer in
Tobacco and Fine Cigars,
No. 37 North Warren Street,
43 TRENTON, N. J.

JOSEPH G HAYES,
Dealer in all kinds of
Burners, Oils and Lamps,
White Grass and Novelties
Corner Lamberton and Market,
134 TRENTON N J

S C. PARROTT,
Dealer in
Fine Watches, Solid Gold Jewelry,
AND SILVER WARE
HAIR JEWELRY made to order Watches and Jewelry carefully repaired and warranted to give satisfaction No. 42 Greene Street, Three Doors above City Hall TRENTON N J 47

TRENTON
BRUSH MANUFACTORY.
P. B. MOYER & CO.,
MANUFACTURERS Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Brushes Pottery Machine and Foundry Brushes made to order at short notice A full line of Painters and Artists Brushes always on hand
No 18 East State Street, Trenton, N J.
Highest Cash Price Paid for Country Bristles 258

John E Thropp Duncan McKenzie Peter Wilkes,
THROPP, McKENZIE & WILKES,
Manufacturers of
Steam Engines,
BOILERS, MILL WORK SHAFTING,
Pulleys Hangers and all kinds of Pottery Machinery
FOOT OF TAYLOR ST, TRENTON, N J
116

TRENTON
MARBLE
AND GRANITE WORKS,
J. D. PAYRAN,
East State Street,
Near Canal Bridge,
278 TRENTON, N. J.

J. J. SMITH,
29 Greene Street, Trenton,
OPPOSITE TAYLOR OPERA HOUSE,
Great Clearance Sale!
To Close the Summer Business.
DRESS GOODS!
All marked down to prices that must command a quick sale as they must be sold to make room for Fall Stock
SILKS!
STRIPED AND PLAIN from 75 cents
BLACK SILKS from Auction, at great bargains
BLACK GOODS!
GRENADINES and HERNANI at 12½ sold elsewhere at 15 cents
Great Bargains in IRON GRENADINES
All PLAIDS and all MOURNING GOODS at greatly reduced prices
LACE SACQUES AND POINTS!
Marked down to prices that will suit all
LINEN SUITS, for $2,00, $3 00, $4 00
BASQUES AND OVERSKIRTS!
All Pure Linen at $5.00 $6 00 and $7 00
SOMETHING ELEGANT at $10 00
PARASOLS and SUN UMBRELLAS at less than cost to close them out
CORSETS!
At prices that defy competition A very good corset at 25 cents any size French Wove Corset at 50 cents worth 75 cents 100 Bone Corsets at $1 25 cheap at double the money Extra large corsets for stout figures a specialty
CLOTH AND CASSIMERES, for Men and Boys wear, at a great reduction
WHITE GOODS!
A few more of the same sort left of those FINE PIQUES for BASQUES at 12½ cents and
JACONETS, CAMBRICS NAINSOOKS and VICTORIA LAWNS at prices that will be appreciated
HAMBURG EDGINGS at half the former price 10 000 YARDS MOSQUITO NETTING
HOSIERY AND GLOVES!
All marked down to prices that were never before heard of Regular made Hose 25 cents Good Hose, 3 pair for 25 cents
Domestic Goods!

FULL YARD WIDE SHEETING, at	6 cts
ATLANTIC " "	7 cts
" " EXTRA HEAVY,	8 cts
STANDARD PRINTS,	5 cts

A large assortment of FRENCH PERCALES, at 12½ cents.
Our prices guaranteed against New York or Philadelphia, and are strictly one price for all
J. J. SMITH.
29 Greene Street,
Opposite Taylor Opera House,
TRENTON, N J
N B —You can buy cheaper for cash than for credit 345

ABIDE IN ME

BY HARRIET BEECHER STOWE

That mystic word of Thine O Sovereign Lord!
In all too pure too high too deep for me,
Weary of striving and with longing faint,
I breathe it back again in prayer to Thee

Abide in me—o'ershadow by Thy love
Each half formed purpose and dark thought of sin
Quench ere it rise each selfish low desire,
And keep my soul as Thine—calm and divine

As some rare perfume in a vase of clay
Pervades it with a fragrance not its own—
So when Thou dwellest in a mortal soul
All heaven's own sweetness seems around it thrown

The soul alone like a neglected harp,
Grows out of tune and needs that Hand divine
Dwell thou within it tune and touch the chords
Till every note and string shall answer Thine

Abide in me there have been moments pure
When I have seen Thy face and felt Thy power
Then evil lost its grasp, and passion hushed
Owned the divine enchantment of the hour

These were but seasons beautiful and rare,
Abide in me—and then shall every hour
Pray Thee now fulfil my earnest prayer
Come and abide in me and I in Thee

LORD FAIRLAND'S SECRET.

CHAPTER III

There was something extremely humorous in the notion of a grandee like the Marquis of Fairland leaving the government of an empire to carry gloves to a shop in Paddington He was so uncommonly truculent in dealing with his peers, that I should have liked to see him slink into the back entrance of his Chaudeuse bonne and undergo a scolding from his pretty wife, because he had brought too many "saxes," and not enough "eights" How he must have loved the woman to put himself thus out of his haughty way for her sake or, taking another view of the case, what a fund of eccentricity there must have been in the man to impel him thus to live his strange double life Perhaps he was at heart weary to sickness of his wealth and rank and regarded it as a recreation to put on the disguise of a tradesman In a man of philosophical mind there would certainly have been something amusing in the comparisons between the two spheres of society in which he moved alternately

I for my part felt no inclination to laugh at Fairland, for I was seriously uneasy at the possible results of what I had done It was to be presumed that Fairland would instantly learn from his wife that I had been at the glove shop, and would, on meeting me at breakfast, sound me as to my motives for going there This, in its effect what occured The marquis came down to breakfast with a shade of anxiety on his face and was at pains to conceal his impatience to interrogate me We got through the usual weather and business preliminaries, however, and were seated at table, before he said

"I dropped in at the opera last night, but didn't see you I thought you never missed a subscription night?"

"I had to go to a party, yesterday out Paddington way One of my old tutors had invited me.

Rather slow, I should think"

"Yes and music—as slow as you please But I made a discovery in those latitude In the West Drayton Road there is a glove shop, unique in its way"

Lord Fairland broke the shell of his egg, I did the same, and endeavored to speak in my ordinary tone But there is no conceiving the difficulty of playing like this It seemed to me as though all the muscles of my face were wrinkling up, and as though my voice were cavernous Luckily, Fairland looked at his egg and not at me

"Unique—how do you mean?"

"First in its fittings, but secondly and chiefly, in the beauty of the glove-seller—one of the sweetest faces I have ever seen"

"You seem to be an admirer of sweet faces, remarked the marquis drily The other day it was Lady Bertha Snowe, now it's—how do you call your new flame?"

"Blake was the name over the door"

"You have already learned it by heart, I see

It is not such a long one"

"I fancy I saw the name 'Blake' on a parcel that was lying on the hall table when I came in this morning"

"Yes, I ordered two dozen pairs of gloves"

"Aha! West Drayton Road will have all your custom for the future, I suppose?"

"No, the lady appears to be married, and West Drayton Road is too far a field to go for an entanglement"

Fairland laughed I had succeeded in playing my part naturally and his own self possession was perfect I took a minute to observe him attentively, and not the vestige of a frown tinished to his feeling any uneasiness His hand did not tremble, nor did his eye wander He simply changed the subject, and discoursed in his usual high and dry style on the topics of the hour, seeming to be harassed by—among other things—some questions which he had to answer in the House of Lords on matters touching his department

Directing me to hunt up some notes on these questions, he left me with an appointment to meet him at the House of Lords at four, and we each went our ways Nothing eventful occurred during the remainder of the day At four, Fairland was wearing his habitual face, and he was in as complete possession of himself as ever, for it took him no more than ten minutes to master the notes which had occupied me two hours to prepare, and to deliver by the help of them a crisp business like speech of half an hour I had entered the House to hear this speech, and was just leaving their lordships bar when I felt a touch on the shoulder, and saw Lord Stermouth He did not speak to me till we were in the lobbies but as soon as we were out of ear shot he said confidentially

"What do you think of that speech?"

"A very able one, my lord"

"Ay, and can you think with patience of a promising statesman like the marquis having his career smashed by an adventuress?"

"I think your lordship should see the lady," I answered with as much firmness as respect would permit "I went to the West Drayton Road yesterday

"Ah! you have already been there?

"Yes and after what I saw I cannot be surprised that Lord Fairland should have conceived the strongest attachment for the lady whom he has privately married So much beauty and grace are rarely found"

"Moonshine" interrupted the Premier testily "A pretty pair of eyes and cozening voice You young men are all alike I tell you that marriage is a criminal blunder, and must, if possible, be unmade, nothing but disgrace and misery can result from it"

"If your lordship will allow me to express an opinion, I would rather suggest that the marriage should be openly acknowledged," was my deferential reply "Lady Fairland is evidently a gentlewoman by training and no harm could result to any man from having her as a wife companion"

"Pshaw, boy you are talking like a fool," broke out Lord Stermouth, with contemptuous irritation "Leave me to manage matters as I think proper and, above all, hold your tongue"

I bowed my head under the reproof, though I did not at all like the implied menace of the Premier's words A hard old statesman, dead to all tender sentiments, but imbued to the marrow with instincts of personal and caste ambit on, he was just the man to do something at once crafty and violent to prevent his nephew from throwing his coronet and fortune into the lap of a tradeswoman A presentiment as of evil seized me, and I could not shake it off, so I went to dine at my club, and repaired afterward to a ball at the Duke of Snowden's Here I found means to dismiss my cares during a few hours for I contrived to get introduced to Lady Bertha and danced a quadrille with her But I could not obtain the favor of a waltz, and, consequently, could not push my court far enough to carry away a little hope with me I had no sooner left Snowden House than my anxieties about Fairland re-seized me. Reason as I would with myself that Lord Stermouth could not, for all his power, do anything to annul Fairland's marriage in the latter's despite I was yet afraid, and had the greatest difficulty in composing myself to sleep Dawn was breaking when I at last dozed off, exhausted by vain conjectures.

How long I had slept I do not know, but it was broad morning when I was aroused by a not gentle shake of the shoulder, and saw Fairland standing by my bedside He was very pale, and spoke to me loud and sharply, to set me well awake.

"Listen to me, Frank; you are going to tell me the truth. You are awake, are you not?"

"Yes, what's the matter?" I asked, sitting up and rubbing my eyes

"What have you done with that young person whom you admired at the glove-shop the day before yesterday?" asked the marquis, looking with malignant fixity into my eyes"

"Done?" I echoed "I have done nothing' What do you mean?'

"I mean that the lady in question has disappeared, and I have reason to suspect that you aided her away"

Good God, Fairland!" I exclaimed, in consternation "Do not let us have such retscences as this Do you think me capable of decoying your wife, or her of following me?'

"My wife?" repeated Fairland, with strange calmness "Then you are aware of my being married?"

"I know everything," I rejoined, excitedly. "Two days ago I was put into possession of the facts by Lord Stermouth, and if Lady Fairland has disappeared she, must have been kidnapped by his orders I had a presentiment that something of this sort would happen"

"Then why did you not warn me?" inquired my cousin, and again his manner were wonderfully cool

"I had given my word to Lord Stermouth," was my dismayed reply, "and, after all my better reason rejected the idea that anything of a treacherous nature could be plotted against you I bitterly repent now having pledged myself to secrecy"

"Compose yourself, and tell me all you know," said Lord Fairland, sitting down, and he astonished me by asking leave to light a cigar

I related everything I knew—the interview with Lord Stermouth and the Duke of Snowdon, the report of the inquiry office, my own visit of curiosity to the glove shop and the Premier's words to me in the House of Lords lobbies Lord Fairland anxiously listened, and occasionally nodded his head but gave no oth er sign of emotion For a man whose wife had mysteriously disappeared, his attitude certainly exceeded in collectedness anything I should have conceived possible He continued to puff at his cigar without haste or flurry, and when I had finished, affectionately gave me his hand

"I dare say there is not much harm done I will go and call on Stermouth," he said, and with these words left me A few minutes afterward I heard the wheels of his brougham clattering away down Piccadilly

CHAPTER IV

Needless to say that I hurriedly dressed so as to be ready to assist my cousin in case he should require my services But two hours passed, and Fairland did not return I was growing anxious, when, glancing into the paper, I saw the reason of his absence explained Lord Stermouth had left for Osborne on the previous night, and it was obvious that the marquis had gone after him Admitting the utmost speed in travelling, he could not be back from the Isle of Wight until evening

What should I do with myself in the interval I spend the whole day without making any efforts of my own to discover Lady Fairland? This was impossible. Apart from affection which I felt for my cousin, I had been too powerfully interested by the loveliness of his wife, not to feel moved to my utmost toward ascertaining whether any evil had befallen her Fairland's real or affected security I could not share perhaps, argued with himself that there was no great danger of Lord Stermouth's mixing in foul play, but I was not at all sure of that The Premier would, of course, deny all complicity in the disappearance, and how could he be brought to book? Through subordinate agents, a powerful minister has countless methods of putting objectionable people in humble rank out of his path, and Lady Fairland might at this moment be on her way to some continental asylum or convent, where it might be almost impossible to discover her I dismissed the notion that any blacker outrage than this might be attempted on her, yet my faith in the scruples of statecraft was not so strong but that I recalled, with a shudder, instances of persons who, after mysteriously disappearing, had been found as mysteriously drowned

Under all circumstances, as I had no data on which to seek information of the police I determined on going to West Drayton Road where I should be able to pick up some certain knowledge of what had occurred and, perhaps, get some clue to extraordinary emotion filled me as I started, and my heart beat faster and faster as I neared Paddington It was evident that Lady Fairland had left on me an impression deeper than I was conscious of, and the consciousness of which, when it began to dawn on me filled me with a great dread Could it be that I wished my cousin was not married, or if he had a wife, it might have been any woman in the world but this one?

Not wishing to have any witnesses of the sensations I might experience on alighting before the shop where I had seen Lady Fairland him tenderly, and not the vestige of a frown tinished to his feeling any uneasiness His hand did not tremble, nor did his eye wander He simply changed the subject, and discoursed in his usual high and dry style on the topics of the hour, seeming to be harassed by—among other things—some questions which he had to answer in the House of Lords on matters touching his department

Directing me to hunt up some notes on these questions, he left me with an appointment to meet him at the House of Lords at four, and we each went our ways Nothing eventful occurred during the remainder of the day At four, Fairland was wearing his habitual face, and he was in as complete possession of himself as ever, for it took him no more than ten minutes to master the notes which had occupied me two hours to prepare, and to deliver by the help of them a crisp business like speech of half an hour I had entered the House to hear this speech, and was just leaving their lordships bar when I felt a touch on the shoulder, and saw Lord Stermouth He did not speak to me till we were in the lobbies but as soon as we were out of ear shot he said confidentially

"What do you think of that speech?"

"A very able one, my lord"

"Ay, and can you think with patience of a promising statesman like the marquis having his career smashed by an adventuress?"

"I think your lordship should see the lady," I answered with as much firmness as respect would permit "I went to the West Drayton Road yesterday

"Ah! you have already been there?

"Yes and after what I saw I cannot be surprised that Lord Fairland should have conceived the strongest attachment for the lady whom he has privately married So much beauty and grace are rarely found"

"Moonshine" interrupted the Premier testily "A pretty pair of eyes and cozening voice You young men are all alike I tell you that marriage is a criminal blunder, and must, if possible, be unmade, nothing but disgrace and misery can result from it"

"If your lordship will allow me to express an opinion, I would rather suggest that the marriage should be openly acknowledged," was my deferential reply "Lady Fairland is evidently a gentlewoman by training and no harm could result to any man from having her as a wife companion"

"Pshaw, boy you are talking like a fool," broke out Lord Stermouth, with contemptuous irritation "Leave me to manage matters as I think proper and, above all, hold your tongue"

I bowed my head under the reproof, though I did not at all like the implied menace of the Premier's words A hard old statesman, dead to all tender sentiments, but imbued to the marrow with instincts of personal and caste ambit on, he was just the man to do something at once crafty and violent to prevent his nephew from throwing his coronet and fortune into the lap of a tradeswoman A presentiment as of evil seized me, and I could not shake it off, so I went to dine at my club, and repaired afterward to a ball at the Duke of Snowden's Here I found means to dismiss my cares during a few hours for I contrived to get introduced to Lady Bertha and danced a quadrille with her But I could not obtain the favor of a waltz, and, consequently, could not push my court far enough to carry away a little hope with me I had no sooner left Snowden House than my anxieties about Fairland re-seized me. Reason as I would with myself that Lord Stermouth could not, for all his power, do anything to annul Fairland's marriage in the latter's despite I was yet afraid, and had the greatest difficulty in composing myself to sleep Dawn was breaking when I at last dozed off, exhausted by vain conjectures.

How long I had slept I do not know, but it was broad morning when I was aroused by a not gentle shake of the shoulder, and saw Fairland standing by my bedside He was very pale, and spoke to me loud and sharply, to set me well awake.

"Listen to me, Frank; you are going to tell me the truth. You are awake, are you not?"

"Yes, what's the matter?" I asked, sitting up and rubbing my eyes

"What have you done with that young person whom you admired at the glove-shop the day before yesterday?" asked the marquis, looking with malignant fixity into my eyes"

"Done?" I echoed "I have done nothing' What do you mean?'

"I mean that the lady in question has disappeared, and I have reason to suspect that you aided her away"

Good God, Fairland!" I exclaimed, in consternation "Do not let us have such retscences as this Do you think me capable of decoying your wife, or her of following me?'

"My wife?" repeated Fairland, with strange calmness "Then you are aware of my being married?"

"I know everything," I rejoined, excitedly. "Two days ago I was put into possession of the facts by Lord Stermouth, and if Lady Fairland has disappeared she, must have been kidnapped by his orders I had a presentiment that something of this sort would happen"

"Then why did you not warn me?" inquired my cousin, and again his manner were wonderfully cool

"I had given my word to Lord Stermouth," was my dismayed reply, "and, after all my better reason rejected the idea that anything of a treacherous nature could be plotted against you I bitterly repent now having pledged myself to secrecy"

"Compose yourself, and tell me all you know," said Lord Fairland, sitting down, and he astonished me by asking leave to light a cigar

I related everything I knew—the interview with Lord Stermouth and the Duke of Snowdon, the report of the inquiry office, my own visit of curiosity to the glove shop and the Premier's words to me in the House of Lords lobbies Lord Fairland anxiously listened, and occasionally nodded his head but gave no oth er sign of emotion For a man whose wife had mysteriously disappeared, his attitude certainly exceeded in collectedness anything I should have conceived possible He continued to puff at his cigar without haste or flurry, and when I had finished, affectionately gave me his hand

"I dare say there is not much harm done I will go and call on Stermouth," he said, and with these words left me A few minutes afterward I heard the wheels of his brougham clattering away down Piccadilly

CHAPTER IV

Needless to say that I hurriedly dressed so as to be ready to assist my cousin in case he should require my services But two hours passed, and Fairland did not return I was growing anxious, when, glancing into the paper, I saw the reason of his absence explained Lord Stermouth had left for Osborne on the previous night, and it was obvious that the marquis had gone after him Admitting the utmost speed in travelling, he could not be back from the Isle of Wight until evening

What should I do with myself in the interval I spend the whole day without making any efforts of my own to discover Lady Fairland? This was impossible. Apart from affection which I felt for my cousin, I had been too powerfully interested by the loveliness of his wife, not to feel moved to my utmost toward ascertaining whether any evil had befallen her Fairland's real or affected security I could not share perhaps, argued with himself that there was no great danger of Lord Stermouth's mixing in foul play, but I was not at all sure of that The Premier would, of course, deny all complicity in the disappearance, and how could he be brought to book? Through subordinate agents, a powerful minister has countless methods of putting objectionable people in humble rank out of his path, and Lady Fairland might at this moment be on her way to some continental asylum or convent, where it might be almost impossible to discover her I dismissed the notion that any blacker outrage than this might be attempted on her, yet my faith in the scruples of statecraft was not so strong but that I recalled, with a shudder, instances of persons who, after mysteriously disappearing, had been found as mysteriously drowned

Under all circumstances, as I had no data on which to seek information of the police I determined on going to West Drayton Road where I should be able to pick up some certain knowledge of what had occurred and, perhaps, get some clue to extraordinary emotion filled me as I started, and my heart beat faster and faster as I neared Paddington It was evident that Lady Fairland had left on me an impression deeper than I was conscious of, and the consciousness of which, when it began to dawn on me filled me with a great dread Could it be that I wished my cousin was not married, or if he had a wife, it might have been any woman in the world but this one?

Not wishing to have any witnesses of the sensations I might experience on alighting before the shop where I had seen Lady Fairland

I returned to Fairland House and shut myself up in the study, resolving that work was the best cure for care and that I would toil away at answering official letters till the marquis came back But, alas a busy pen must be guided by an unobtrusive mind Again and again the pen fell from my hand, and I was listlessly tracing figures in the blotting book when, toward evening, a footman knocked at the door, and announced to me that a Miss Mildmay craved a few moments interview Before I could answer Ada's figure had brightened the threshold, and I ran forward to meet her

"I came to you about the gloves you bought yesterday, sir," she began, faltering but, at once throwing away this pretence, she added "No, Mr Fairfax, please tell me the truth about all these things which I cannot understand I have been looking into the Peerage this morning, at the name of 'Fairland' and I find the marquis' name is Fairfax Is it you who are Lord Fairland?"

I shook my head

"Then it's the gentleman whom we know as Mr Fairfax! Tell me the truth—I beseech you tell me the truth—if you like I will swear never to disclose the secret

Why should I have deceived her? I confessed the truth, and she at once burst into tears, clasping her hands and rocking to and fro "Oh how noble and great and good he is! I could not have believed such goodness possible! I could not have thought that any human being could have given proof of such magnanimity, and generosity, and fondness, as he has evinced for us"

"Do you mean Lord Fairland?" I inquired, considerably moved

"Yes, Lord Fairland's my sister's husband," she answered, as her tears continued to flow.

There was a long pause Lord Fairland was married, then, but not to Ada, and Lord Stermouth's expressions on Ada were calumnies I felt too grateful—my heart bounded too high—to leave me any power during the next few moments to ask questions But when I could speak without faltering, I requested Ada Mildmay to furnish me with some explanations as to what she had just said, and she readily did so

"My sister Amy and I are daughters of a clergyman," she said drying her eyes, "we are twins, and used to be so like each other that it was impossible to discern between us Well, some years ago papa died, and Amy soon afterward fell in love with a gentleman who represented himself to be an officer, but who turned out to have no means of livelihood at all Amy only found out that after their marriage, and with some little money that she had inherited from papa she suggested that they should set up a glove-shop This was done but George Blake, Amy's husband, was a terrible drinker, and gradually fell into such courses that, had he lived longer, it would have been necessary to restrain him He was killed, however, in a railway accident, and in that same accident Amy lost her eyesight and her beauty. For a time she also lost her reason, and the doctors feared she might never recover"

"But that does not explain Lord Fairland's marriage with her," I remarked

"Oh, yes, it does," answered Ada "Listen to me, and you will see how it all occurred Some time before that railway accident, Lord Fairland—who called himself simply Mr Fairfax—came by hazard into the shop to buy gloves, and fell at once into love with Amy, who stood behind the counter then, as I do now Amy, of course, couldn't listen to him; but she secretly loved him, and the grief that chiefly unsettled her reason when the accident occurred was, I fancy, that she thought Mr. Fairfax would cease to love her because her beauty was gone He behaved grandly, however, for, though she had just passed through one fit of insanity, and was threatened with soon having another, he married her in the lucid interval, and I believe now that his only reason for concealing his high rank was that he thought Amy might refuse his sacrifice, if she knew who he really was. He described himself as a commercial traveller."

"A nobleman indeed," I murmured muttered something about replying to her some other day, and precipitately left the shop This time I did not turn round to see whether she was gazing after me I ran straight on till I met a cab, into which I forthwith jumped, telling the driver to take me to Piccadilly

I cannot tell of what I thought as I sped along All my ideas were confused, and I could only keep my mind on this one point that Ada Mildmay was unmarried, and that there was some mystery enshrouding my cousin in which I could not venture to penetrate alone It was misery to me to think that I should have to wait till evening for a settlement of all the doubts and anxieties which were oppressing me, but of one thing I was resolved—namely, that if Fairland was not back from Osborne by six o clock I would follow him thither Meanwhile it occurred to me that it would be a prudent thing to send a telegram to my cousin, and I alighted at the nearest office for the purpose The message which I sent consisted only of the words

"She is found, and is safe and well, at West Drayton Road"

The telegram clerk having informed me that the message would reach its destination in half an hour, I had put one load off my mind Still I was nervous as to what might result from an angry interview on Lord Fairland's part with Lord Stermouth, and it was consequently an immense relief when, on debouching in Piccadilly, I was crossed by the Premier's very brougham, going at a pelting trot toward his lordship's private residence Thus was a truly fortunate rencounter I saw Lord Stermouth in the carriage, with his venerable gray head bent over some despatches, and it was clear that he had either not been to Osborne, as the newspaper had announced, or had returned very promptly thence I ordered the cab to turn and follow the brougham, and as Lord Stermouth was alighting at his house, I ran forward and accosted him, raising my hat

"Lord Stermouth, the marquis followed you to Osborne this morning, wanting very much to see you"

"Ah, indeed I only went to Osborne to take her Majesty's orders, and remained there about a couple of hours, Lord Fairland and I must have crossed each other," answered the Prime Minister, with studied affability "Do you know what the marquis desired of me?"

"He wanted to speak to you about the mysterious disappearance of the lady whom your lordship erroneously supposed to be his wife"

"Erroneously supposed? I never supposed anything, Fairfax What are you dreaming about?"

"Why, did not your lordship speak to me yesterday again about Lord Fairfax's clandestine marriage?"

"I do not remember to have ever opened my lips on such a subject" rejoined the Prime Minister, with astonishing effrontery and politeness

I was for a moment dumbfounded but not liking to be made a zany of, I plucked up my spirits, as I answered with rising anger

"Your lordship has surely not forgotten addressing me about Lord Fairland's supposed marriage with a glove seller, and making threatening remarks on the matter?"

Something in my tone probably showed the Premier that it would be inexpedient to trifle with me He smiled, and slightly shrugged his shoulders

"That inquiry office led us all astray It was not a marriage, but a connection, and with that neither you nor I nor anybody else has anything to do Fairfax Lord Fairland is his own master

CHAPTER V

These words of Lord Stermouth's made my heart turn to ice His manner of uttering them spoke volumes, and the truth seemed to go through me as a flash that this pretty glove seller, Ada Mildmay—or Blake, or whatever else was her name—was simply living under Lord Fairland's "protection" I call to mind Lord Fairland's unconcern that morning His jaunty, almost flippant composure, as he smoked his cigar, and the unconcerned style in which he had set off in quest of Lord Stermouth All this pointed to a liaison, and what is more, to a liaison of which one of the parties was beginning to tire

And yet no! Any one who had once fallen under the thraldom of those sweet eyes would remain their slave forever And they were eyes full of innocence—not those of one who had fallen from woman's high estate of chasteness and modesty I was ready to admit a mystery, however improbable, but I could not admit that Ada Mildmay was otherwise than irreproachable. Her artless laugh, which had pealed from her lips as she related her adventure to me, rang in my ears and dispelled all the miserable notions which Lord Stermouth, with his sneer of worldly skepticism, had conjured up

I returned to Fairland House and shut myself up in the study, resolving that work was the best cure for care and that I would toil away at answering official letters till the marquis came back But, alas a busy pen must be guided by an unobtrusive mind Again and again the pen fell from my hand, and I was listlessly tracing figures in the blotting book when, toward evening, a footman knocked at the door, and announced to me that a Miss Mildmay craved a few moments interview Before I could answer Ada's figure had brightened the threshold, and I ran forward to meet her

"I came to you about the gloves you bought yesterday, sir," she began, faltering but, at once throwing away this pretence, she added "No, Mr Fairfax, please tell me the truth about all these things which I cannot understand I have been looking into the Peerage this morning, at the name of 'Fairland' and I find the marquis' name is Fairfax Is it you who are Lord Fairland?"

I shook my head

"Then it's the gentleman whom we know as Mr Fairfax! Tell me the truth—I beseech you tell me the truth—if you like I will swear never to disclose the secret

Why should I have deceived her? I confessed the truth, and she at once burst into tears, clasping her hands and rocking to and fro "Oh how noble and great and good he is! I could not have believed such goodness possible! I could not have thought that any human being could have given proof of such magnanimity, and generosity, and fondness, as he has evinced for us"

"Do you mean Lord Fairland?" I inquired, considerably moved

"Yes, Lord Fairland's my sister's husband," she answered, as her tears continued to flow.

There was a long pause Lord Fairland was married, then, but not to Ada, and Lord Stermouth's expressions on Ada were calumnies I felt too grateful—my heart bounded too high—to leave me any power during the next few moments to ask questions But when I could speak without faltering, I requested Ada Mildmay to furnish me with some explanations as to what she had just said, and she readily did so

"My sister Amy and I are daughters of a clergyman," she said drying her eyes, "we are twins, and used to be so like each other that it was impossible to discern between us Well, some years ago papa died, and Amy soon afterward fell in love with a gentleman who represented himself to be an officer, but who turned out to have no means of livelihood at all Amy only found out that after their marriage, and with some little money that she had inherited from papa she suggested that they should set up a glove-shop This was done but George Blake, Amy's husband, was a terrible drinker, and gradually fell into such courses that, had he lived longer, it would have been necessary to restrain him He was killed, however, in a railway accident, and in that same accident Amy lost her eyesight and her beauty. For a time she also lost her reason, and the doctors feared she might never recover"

"But that does not explain Lord Fairland's marriage with her," I remarked

"Oh, yes, it does," answered Ada "Listen to me, and you will see how it all occurred Some time before that railway accident, Lord Fairland—who called himself simply Mr Fairfax—came by hazard into the shop to buy gloves, and fell at once into love with Amy, who stood behind the counter then, as I do now Amy, of course, couldn't listen to him; but she secretly loved him, and the grief that chiefly unsettled her reason when the accident occurred was, I fancy, that she thought Mr. Fairfax would cease to love her because her beauty was gone He behaved grandly, however, for, though she had just passed through one fit of insanity, and was threatened with soon having another, he married her in the lucid interval, and I believe now that his only reason for concealing his high rank was that he thought Amy might refuse his sacrifice, if she knew who he really was. He described himself as a commercial traveller."

"A nobleman indeed," I murmured

"Isn't he?" cried Ada "And you should have seen his tenderness toward Amy Oh, how it all comes back to me now! Amy, being blind, you know, keeps in an upper room over the shop, but Mr Fairfax used to come to spend at least three hours every day with her, and a gentler, kinder being never existed"

"But is there no hope of Lady Fairland's reason and sight being restored to her?" I inquired

"Her reason is restored to her completely," reiterated Ada, "and as to her sight, the doctor, says that she will regain that, too She already sees through a film"

It was just at this moment, as Ada was still speaking, that there was a ring at the front door bell, and Lord Fairland's tread resounded through the hall He came straight to the study, opened the door and exclaimed, without much surprise, "Well, Ada, so you've found out everything?"

"Oh, Lord Fairland!" she exclaimed, rushing into his arms and kissing him with a fervor of posterity admiration "I ought to have guessed all along that you were not what you pretended yourself to be!"

"Thanks, but that's a clumsy compliment, dear, laughed the marquis, shaking his head and knitting his brow "At any rate, don't call me Lord Fairland again I like my old name of Charles"

He turned, as he said this, and held out his hand

"Pray, Frank, oblige me by going to Lord Stermouth's, and saying I shall call on him in the course of an hour, I want to introduce somebody to him"

His tone was so mild as he said this that I no longer dreaded the possibility of a quarrel between him and the Prime Minister I repaired at once to Lord Stermouth's, casting as I departed, a valedictory look at Ada, who blushed, and found the Prime Minister in company with several other great noblemen, who were presumably going to dine with him He seemed surprised at my communication, and was apparently about to solicit more detailed explanation, when Lord Fairland, who had followed me almost step for step in his carriage, arrived, and the usher wonderingly brought up the announcement of his visit in the following terms

"The Marquis and Marchioness of Fairland"

With intense curiosity all eyes turned toward the door, through which Lord Fairland entered, escorting a veiled lady, who leaned on his arm She wore a shade over her eyes, and the veil of her face was invisible, but the looks of proud tenderness, which Lord Fairland bent on her her, were such as a woman of the most peerless beauty would have envied

He advanced into the middle of the room, and, with a gesture at once quiet and manly, said

"My lords—Lady F

Bucks County Gazette:

JESSE O. THOMAS, Editor.

OFFICE—No. 48 Radcliffe St., cor. Walnut St. BRISTOL, PA.

Thursday, August 24, 1876.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Single copies............................ 5 cents.
One year.............................. $2 00.

—The Republican Congressional Convention at Landsdale, have chosen as their candidate a man whose ability, honesty and industry is highly spoken of even by members of the opposite party. The Philadelphia Times, an independent newspaper, with strong Democratic proclivities, says:

Dr. I. Newton Evans formerly resided in Warminster township, Bucks county, but for some years past has been a citizen of Hatboro', Montgomery county. He is a man who, by a life of sobriety, industry and usefulness, has won the highest esteem. Without any brilliant intellectual acquirements, he yet possesses a vigorous, practical mind, and has proved himself capable in meeting the demands of various positions which he has been selected at times to fill. For several years he was a director in the Doylestown Bank, and is at present president of the Hatboro' National Bank. Politically he has always been an unswerving and active Republican.

The Doylestown Democrat, whose manner of treating candidates for office in the Republican party is generally known in the vicinity where the paper is published, says:

Dr. I. Newton Evans, of Hatborough, is mentioned for Congress in this district on the Republican ticket. They cannot find a man of higher character in their political household, and if we are to be represented by a Republican we prefer Dr. Evans to all others named. We doubt, however, whether his patients will agree to spare him.

And the Doylestown Intelligencer, reflecting the sentiments of the Republicans of this district, says:

This selection will receive the eager support of the voters of the district, very many of whom have long known Dr. Evans as a kind and skillful physician, and entirely worthy citizen, and a gentleman of recognized manly virtues. He has never held any public position save that of bank director at Doylestown and at present the presidency of the National Bank at Hatboro'. But he is in every way representative of all the interests which the district desires to foster and protect. He has always been distinguished for personal probity and the punctual, patient and thorough discharge of every duty. As our representative in Congress he will carry with him the same valuable characteristics and will cheerfully accept all its responsibilities. He is fresh from the people and is in line with our most thoughtful voters on all the important questions of the day. His nomination was warmly pressed and energetically opposed at the Convention, but the proceedings of that body were not more demonstrative than those which usually attend a convention where the nomination is equivalent to an election.

With such an unanimity of feeling, and the known popularity of Dr. Evans, there is no doubt but that he will be triumphantly elected.

—The Hon. Newton Booth, who swept California as an independent Republican candidate for Governor, and was afterwards elected United States Senator, is now in Indianapolis. He says he cannot hesitate in his choice of Hayes and Wheeler on the one side, and Tilden and Hendricks on the other, and must support the former. He has promised to make seven speeches for Hayes and Wheeler in Indiana before leaving for home. He will stump California on his return for the Republican ticket, and expresses the opinion that Hayes will carry the State, as the Republicans are now perfectly united on the Pacific coast. He says his letter declining the Independent nomination for Vice-President was promptly written but suppressed by the managers of that party.

—The Republican State Convention of New York met yesterday at Saratoga. A letter from Mr. Cornell, withdrawing from the candidacy, was presented to the delegates John M. Francis was chosen permanent Chairman, and resolutions were adopted reaffirming the principles set forth in the Cincinnati platform and the letters of acceptance of Hayes and Wheeler, and recognizing the patriotism and public services of President Grant. Hon. E. D. Morgan was then nominated for Governor on the first ballot, he receiving 242 votes to 126 for Evarts, 54 for Robertson and 18 for Townsend. The Liberal Republican Convention, called by John Cochrane, which was in session at the same time, adopted resolutions approving the Republican National and State tickets.

—The vigorous efforts made by certain Democrats to prove that Gov. Tilden was a zealous war man in 1860 have recalled President's Lincoln's story of the California judge who produced a Virginia witness to prove that he had never been hostile to the Union. The witness swore that the Judge was as loyal as he was himself, but on being questioned could not recall an instance in which he had exhibited any loyalty. At last he was asked, "Well, when Fort Sumpter was fired on, what did he say?" "I disremember what the Judge did say, but I know he felt just as I did." "And pray, Sir, how did you feel?" "Well, the fact is I always have felt that the firing on Fort Sumpter was premature."

—The Hon. George Lear, Attorney General of this State, has just notified the Erie Railroad Company that it must rebuild the bridge across the Delaware River connecting Port Jervis, N. Y., with Matamoras, Penna., which was blown down during a violent gale eight years ago. When the bridge was destroyed, it seems that James Fisk, Jr., obtained legislation in Pennsylvania which was supposed to release the Erie Company from its obligation to build and maintain the bridge. This legislation is now discovered to be void. The Lehigh and Eastern Railroad, it is stated, will use the Matamoros bridge to connect with the Erie Railroad.

Harpers Weekly: Gov. Hayes knows that among his supporters, there is a powerful and swiftly increasing body that demands reform upon the principles he proclaims. Gov. Tilden knows no such body among his supporters and he therefore carefully announces no principles whatever. He knows, as every intelligent man in the country knows, that with his partisans, "reform of the civil service" means turning out Republicans and turning in Democrats; and that this is the "administrative reform" to which a Tilden administration would introduce us.

—The Wagner Musical Festival at Bayreuth, which continued during a great part of last week, was a triumph which has never been exceeded in the history of any musical composer. At the close a grand banquet was given to the artist, who was crowned with a chaplet of silver wrought in imitation of laurel leaves. After the banquet he passed through an ordeal of congratulations, handshaking and kissing, which is described as almost without parallel.

—Judge Kelly, in accepting an invitation to speak for Hayes and Wheeler in Indiana, wrote: "I shall, during the coming campaign, attempt to show the people of your State, in common with others, that, notwithstanding the terms of the platform of the Republican party and the letter of Gov. Hayes, currency reform, as I understand and have explained, can be more safely intrusted to the Republican party than to the Democratic."

—The remains of Speaker Kerr reached Indianapolis last evening, and was met by Governor Hendricks, Senator McDonald, General Love and many prominent citizens, who escorted them to New Albany at midnight, and will lie in state at the Court House until this evening. The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon, from the Speaker's late residence.

DEATH OF SPEAKER KERR.

The late Speaker of the House of Representatives, Michael C. Kerr, of New Albany, Indiana, died on Saturday last at Rockbridge, Alum Springs, Va., of acute inflammation of the bowels. Though in delicate health for some years, he was in his usual health when elected Speaker; but the responsibilities of his position overtaxed his strength, which has been gradually declining almost ever since his election. His wife and family were at his bedside in attendance up to the last moment of his eventful life; and all that the highest skill and devoted affection could do to mitigate his great suffering were rendered him. Two days before his decease he sent a telegram to his twin brother at Titusville, Pa., saying: "The end of my life is near at hand. I suffer the most intense agony. I send my last love to you and yours."

Mr. Kerr was born in this State, near Titusville, in March, 1827, without fortune; and was educated by means acquired through his own labor, and finally graduated at Louisville University, and located at New Albany. He selected Law as his profession. He was elected to Congress four times, and last winter was chosen Speaker on account of his great ability, and personal worth. There was an accusation preferred against him last Spring of having taken a bribe. The matter was referred to an investigating committee and the charge investigated and fully disproved by the unanimous report of the committee. The accusation was shown to be trumped up by a worthless slanderer. The Republican members of the committee were equally warm in their expressions of confidence in his integrity.

His remains were taken to Washington City where they laid in State for a few days, and were then conveyed by a committee to his home in Indiana, and received by a sad concourse of friends who carried him to his final resting place.

Life's fitful struggle is over, and he sleeps well.

—Dr. Acker of the Norristown Register says this about the nomination of James Boyd for candidate for Congress for the 7th district: The nomination of James Boyd for Congress will hardly be very kindly received by the masses of the Democracy of the county. It is well known that he is entirely in the interest of monopoly, that he is the regular attorney of the Reading Railroad Company, one of the great monopolies of the day. And his well-known and still remembered arbitrary and tyrannical course as Draft Commissioner during the war as well as a practicing attorney at the Bar and his general non-sympathy with the interest of the masses of the people all tend to make him non-acceptable to the Democracy of the county.

The majority, then, in forcing his nomination to defeat regular and well tried Democrats did not strengthen the party which had again secured a rising position and was gaining in strength. It is stated that there was a letter and a telegram from Mr. Boyd, stating that he was not a candidate. This should have been read in the Convention so that the Convention could have nominated somebody else.

His refusal to accept the nomination would undoubtedly strengthen the real Democracy of the county and help to elect the county ticket to be nominated to-day.

—The famous coal combination is finally dissolved. On Tuesday a meeting was held in New York of the Board of Control of the Coal Company association, at which were present: Messrs. Thos. Dickson, of the Delaware and Hudson Co.; Samuel Sloan, Delaware and Lackawanna Co.; F. B. Gowen, Reading Co.; J. Taylor Johnson, Central of New Jersey; Charles Parrish, Lehigh Valley Railroad Co.; G. A. Hoyt, Pennsylvania Coal Co.; A. Packer, Lehigh Valley Coal Co. After the usual preliminaries, Mr. Gowen offered a resolution dissolving the association and adjourning the Board sine die. The Resolution was unanimously adopted, the meeting adjourned and the coal combination is dissolved. The first result of the disruptness is the announcement of a sale by auction on Tuesday next of half a million tons of coal. It is expected that the sale will break down prices very materially. The news of the disruption causes much uneasiness in the Schuylkill coal region, as a decline in the price of coal, and a corresponding reduction in the miners' wages are looked for. The miners have lately been making only half and, in some instances, one-third time, and there is a gloomy prospect for the winter. It is doubted, also, if individual operators will be able to continue production with lowered prices for coal.

—Gov. Tilden's back-down on the currency question is likely to injure him in more ways than one. The large body of persons who are afraid that if the Democrats are put in power an attempt will be made to have the Government assume the Southern debt, are arguing that Gov. Tilden will be unable to resist such an effort should it be made. Even The Cincinnati Commercial takes that view, saying: "Mr. Tilden has already given way to the demands of the party in the West upon a question of finance on which he was supposed to be firm as a rock. He has exhibited a weakness that reminds us of the fatal characteristic of James Buchanan. Indebted to the South for his election more than he can be to the West, his sense of obligation for his own sake and that of the party, and his hopes of a second term, to which his letter of acceptance shows he is not averse, will induce him to consent to the passage of any measures that will strengthen him in that quarter. The restoration of the Democratic party, in brief, means the indemnification of all who engaged in rebellion for the property they lost through their own foolish attempt to destroy the Union."

—A statement has appeared in some Republican papers, to the effect that soon after the war broke out, Hendricks withdrew from membership in a Presbyterian church at Indianapolis, because the pastor, one Sunday, preached a strong Union sermon. The Denver News says that this is true, but only half the story. About the same time the rector of Christ Church (Episcopal) in the same city was a secessionist, named Horace Stringfellow, whose disloyalty was so pronounced that his congregation rather summarily terminated his clerical labors in their behalf, and he was about to return South, when the rebel element, headed by Thomas A. Hendricks, organized a church and installed Stringfellow as rector. They built a house of worship, which they called St. Paul's, but which was better known by various nicknames suggestive of sympathy with the rebellion. Mr. Hendricks was one of its first vestrymen, and is now, or was lately, one of its wardens. No wonder that, with such a candidate on their ticket, the Democracy should build largely on the solid vote of the Southern States.

—On Saturday last Messrs. Steinway & Sons, the piano-forte makers, treated their workmen, to the number of about 900, to an excursion to the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, two special trains taking them from New York. Free tickets to Philadelphia and return, and a free ticket to the Centennial grounds, were furnished to all the actual employees of the firm, and for their friends these tickets were sold to the workmen for $2.50 each.

—A correspondent of the Huron Expositor declares that in his opinion the chief causes why the streams of Canada are depleted of speckled trout is the warmth of the water. He says: The woods having been cut away, the sun is allowed to shine on the water from morning till night, making it too hot for the trout to live in. Trout, it is well known, will not thrive or live excepting in cool water.

—It is estimated that foreign goods in the main building of the Centennial are worth $00,000,000 the duties on which amount to $25,000,000.

RUTHERFORD B. HAYES.

Rutherford Birchard Hayes was born in Delaware, Ohio, Oct. 4, 1822. His parents, Rutherford Hayes and Sophia Birchard, were natives of Windham County, Vermont, and emigrated to Ohio in 1817.

His first American ancestor of the name of Hayes was George Hayes, a Scotchman, who settled in Windsor, Conn., about 1680.

His mother was descended from John Birchard, who came over with his father's family from England in 1635, and became one of the principal proprietors and settlers of Norwich, Conn.

Three of his ancestors, Daniel Austin, Israel Smith, and Elias Birchard, were members of the Revolutionary Army, the latter dying during his term of service.

In 1842, young Hayes graduated at Kenyon College with the first honors of his class, of which he was the youngest member, and during the same year he began the study of law with Thomas Sparrow, Esq., at Columbus, Ohio.

In 1845 he graduated at the Law School of Harvard University, was admitted to the bar at Marietta, and began the practice of his profession at Fremont, Ohio, in partnership with General Ralph P. Buckland.

In 1849 he removed to Cincinnati, and in 1852 was married to Lucy Ware Webb, daughter of Dr. James Webb and Maria Cook, of Chillicothe.

In 1856 he was nominated for Judge of Common Pleas, but declined the nomination.

In 1858, the office of City Solicitor becoming vacant by the death of Judge Hart, he was unexpectedly elected by the City Council to fill the vacancy, and in 1859 was re-elected by the people for a full term, running over five hundred votes ahead of his ticket.

He held this office until the breaking out of the Southern rebellion, when, with Judge Mathews, he raised a regiment for the Union service, and went out with it as Major.

He led his regiment, forming part of General Reno's division, at the battle of South Mountain, in September, 1862, having received a commission as Lieutenant-Colonel.

The regiment was the first that established a position on South Mountain.

Lieutenant-Colonel Hayes was severely wounded in the arm, but remained with his regiment throughout the action

In 1862 he was appointed Colonel of the Twenty-third Ohio Regiment, and placed in command of the Kanawha Division, then ordered back to West Virginia.

He was subsequently promoted to Brigadier-General "for gallant and meritorious service in the battles of Winchester, Fisher's Hill, and Cedar Creek," and was brevetted Major-General for "gallant and distinguished service during the campaign of 1864, in West Virginia, and particularly in the battles of Fisher's Hill and Cedar Creek."

Prior to these promotions he had commanded a brigade as Colonel for over two years, and he was then commanding a division.

In the course of his arduous services four horses had been shot under him, and he had been wounded four times.

In 1864 he was nominated to represent the Second Congressional District of Ohio, and was elected by a majority of 3,098, and in 1866 he was re-elected.

Before his Congressional term expired, in 1867, he was elected Governor of the State, and was re-elected in 1869.

His opponent was Senator Thurman, the most popular Democratic leader in Ohio.

On his retirement from the Governor's chair, General Hayes was again elected to Congress.

In 1874 he was unanimously nominated for the third term as Governor.

The Democracy renominated Governor Allen, and threw into the contest the best talent and effort at their command.

General Hayes canvassed the entire State, making speeches in nearly every county, often making two or three at as many different places in a single day. For over two months he was kept thus employed.

The warmth and energy of the canvass was sufficiently attested by the fact that it brought out the largest vote by over sixty-three thousand ever cast in Ohio. The Republicans elected their entire State ticket and the Legislature, the majority for General Hayes being 5,544.

THE SPLENDID SPIRIT OF THE MAN.

As an officer he was noted not only for strict loyalty to his superiors, but for gallantry in battle and alacrity in the discharge of every duty, however perilous or arduous.

The first suggestion of his nomination for Governor was strongly disfavored by the General, who put a quietus upon the movement in that direction as soon as he heard of it. He generally preferred to remain in the military service as long as the rebellion lasted, and no political promotion was any temptation for him to leave it while the triumph of the national arms was incomplete.

During the war he was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Second District, and directly afterward received a letter importuning him to return home and make the canvass.

General Hayes replied to this letter as follows:

IN CAMP, October 2.

Yours of 29th ult. is received. Thanks. I have other business just now. Any man who would leave the army at this time to electioneer for Congress ought to be scalped.

Truly yours,

R. B. HAYES.

Notwithstanding this refusal to leave the field to co-operate with his friends in securing his political preferment, he was handsomely elected, defeating Joseph C. Butler, the Democratic candidate, by a majority of 2,455.

In 1868 he was re-elected, his competitor being Theodore Cook, and his majority over that gentleman was 2,556.

In Congress, his industry, sound judgment, and fidelity to the interests of his constituents were conspicuous, and gave him a position of great prominence and influence with his fellow-members.

Though not apparently ambitious of oratorical display, and seldom occupying the time of the House with even a short speech, his unobtrusive and thoroughly efficient discharge of his duty won for him not only respect but reputation, and he was regarded both in Washington and in Ohio as one of the ablest and best members on the floor.

He took a deep interest in all the great and agitating questions then before Congress, including those relating to the reorganization of the lately revolting States, and acted uniformly in accord with the Republican line of policy in reference to the measures.

Mr. Hayes is a good-sized, well-formed man. He is every way well made, has a handsome head and a rather handsome body, and a face which would introduce him favorably anywhere. His complexion is light, skin florid, temperament composed of the vital motive and mental in almost the same proportions. He is neither too fast nor too slow, excitable or sluggish, but is at once sufficiently energetic, original, comprehensive, dignified and resolute. He is more profound than showy, and has more application than versatility. He will finish what he begins, and make thorough work. He has a hopeful, happy nature, is eminently social, fond of home and all that belongs thereto, and as hospitable as he is thoughtful and considerate.

—The delegates chosen by the Methodist Episcopal Churches North and South, to effect a union of those bodies, have been in session for several days at Cape May, and have agreed upon a basis of union.

WILLIAM A. WHEELER.

Congressman William A. Wheeler, who has been nominated for the office of Vice-President, is the representative in Congress from the 19th District of New York, and from his training and experience in public life, he is well fitted for the office. He has been for over a quarter of a century engaged in pursuits which eminently qualified him for the high office to which he has been nominated. He has been, since the death of the Whig party, a consistent Republican, and his experience as a State legislator, and as a member of Congress for five terms is a sufficient guarantee of his fitness for the position. In New York, and especially in his own county of Franklin, his character stands very high, and in his capacity of Chairman of the Congressional Committee which went to New Orleans in the winter of 1874, to settle the Louisiana difficulties, showed considerable executive ability and sound sense, which did much to bring about a peaceable settlement of the questions then at issue between the opposing factions. Mr. Wheeler was born in Malone, Franklin County, in New York, June 13, 1819, and is consequently in his fifty-eighth year. He received a common school and academic education in his native town, and subsequently entered the University of Vermont, which he left in the year 1842, without graduating. He next studied law, and having been called to the bar, he commenced the practice of his profession in his native county with considerable success. He showed marked ability in his profession, and in a few years was offered the nomination of District Attorney by the Democrats of Franklin County. He accepted the nomination, and was elected. He discharged the duties of his office in an able and impartial manner, and at the expiration of his term of office he was requested to become a candidate for the Assembly in the Whig interest. Mr. Wheeler threw himself into the contest warmly, and was elected. He only served one term, however, and at its close gave up for a time public life to business pursuits. He became cashier of the bank in his native town, and for fourteen years remained connected with it, displaying judicious judgment in all his transactions, and winning the esteem and confidence of all who had business relations with him. He also became interested in railroads, and was elected President of the Northern New York Railroad, which position he held for eleven years. At the death of the old Whig party, Mr. Wheeler became a Republican, and in the year 1858 he was elected to the State Senate, of which he was made temporary President, a distinguished mark of the confidence in which he was held by the Republican party, who then for the first time fully controlled the Legislature. Mr. Wheeler was an active member of the Senate during his term of office, and his ability and integrity were so well recognized that his party removed him to a higher sphere of political duty by electing him as their Representative to the Thirty-seventh Congress, from the then Sixteenth District, comprising the counties of Clinton, Essex and Franklin. Mr. Wheeler proved himself a faithful representative, consistently supporting the Republican party, and aiding in all measures for the suppression of the rebellion. After this term in Congress had expired, Mr. Wheeler retired into private life for four or five years, but in the spring of 1867 he was again called to take an active part in politics. He was elected, in April, 1867, a member of the State Constitutional Convention, and at its organization the following June, he again received a distinguished mark of public favor by being elected to the position of Chairman of the Convention. In the fall of 1867, Mr. Wheeler was nominated and elected to the Forty-first Congress from the Nineteenth District, comprising Franklin and St. Lawrence counties, and since that date he has sat continuously in Congress up to the present time. In the Forty-first Congress Mr. Wheeler was Chairman on the Committee on the Pacific Railroad, which office he also held in the Forty-second Congress. During the Forty-third Congres, in the winter of 1874, he was, as already stated, appointed Chairman of the Congressional Committee which went to New Orleans to settle the disturbing questions which then prevailed in Louisiana, and it was mainly owing to his exertions that a peaceable settlement was obtained, and that what is known as the "Wheeler compromise" was accepted by both parties in the Louisiana Legislature. The compromise agreed upon by the committee was adopted in good faith by Republicans and Democrats, peace was restored, and good feeling soon prevailed among all classes of citizens.

THE LAST HONORS TO MR. KERR.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22.—The remains of the late Speaker Kerr arrived here early this morning from Rockbridge Alum Springs by the Baltimore and Potomac Railroad, accompanied by Mrs. Kerr and her son, Representatives Milton Sayler, S. S. Cox, and H. Casey Young, and Mr. Adams, Clerk of the House of Representatives. The body was incased in a casket covered with black cloth, the moldings were of heavy plate, and six heavy plated massive handles ornamented the sides. The cover was of plate glass, extending the whole length of the casket. An extra cover of black cloth and silver-plated mounting fitted over the glass, the interior being lined with white silk and satin.

Upon the arrival of the party in Washington, Sergeant-at-Arms Thomson took charge of the casket and had it removed to a special car. A detail of six men of the Capitol police were placed on guard. The outer cover of the casket was removed and the body laid in state until 10:30 a. m. During the morning a number of Mr. Kerr's friends and others visited the station to view the remains. At 11:30 the casket was closed, and at 11:50 the funeral party, consisting of Mrs. Kerr and son, Vice-President Ferry, Representative Morrison, Sergeant-at-Arms Thomson, Mr. Adams, Clerk, and several other officers of the House of Representatives, left for New Albany, Indiana, via Harrisburg and Indianapolis. Representatives Sayler and Cox did not accompany the party. The Indianapolis route was selected because Gov. Hendricks of Indiana had telegraphed here to know which route the party would take, and it was expected the Governor with a delegation of State officials, would meet them at Indianapolis and accompany the remains to the home of the late Speaker.

PRESIDENT GRANT'S ANNOUNCEMENT TO THE PEOPLE.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., Aug. 22.—The following has just been received from the President:

It is with extreme pain that the President announces to the people of the United States the death of the Speaker of the House of Representatives, the Honorable Michael C. Kerr of Indiana. A man of intellectual endowments, large culture, great probity, and earnestness in his devotion to the public interests, has passed from the position of power and usefulness to which he had recently called. The body, over which he had been selected to preside, not being in session to render its tribute of affection and respect to the memory of the deceased, the President invites the people of the United States to a solemn recognition of the public and private worth and the services of a pure and eminent character.

U. S. GRANT.

By the President: JOHN L. CADWALADER, Acting Secretary of State.

Washington, Aug. 21, 1876.

—A law has been passed in Germany forbidden the construction of school-rooms with windows on both side of the room. It is said to be proven that rooms so lighted are injurious to the eyes.

—Nasby writes to The Toledo Blade an account of his troubles in attempting to understand the letters of Messrs. Tilden and Hendricks. He spent 10 hours over them and was unable to tell whether they were for hard or soft money. A friend telegraphed to both candidates asking what kind of money Nasby should advocate on the stump, and received the following replies: "Hard money, uv course but soften it a good deal in the West. Strike boldly, however, for reform, and agin the Corrupshen uv the Republikin party.—TILDEN." "Soft money, uv course, but harden it a good deal in the East. Strike boldly, however, for Reform, and agin the Corrupshen of the Republikin party.—HENDRIX."

—In Wilkesbarre, Pa., a young man who was formerly a North Carolina slave has just been ordained pastor over a Presbyterian church of colored Christians. His name is William D. Robeson. At the close of the war he understood neither reading nor writing. Since that time he has been at Lincoln University, where he has distinguished himself by his proficiency in study. He is said by those who have heard him to be a very able preacher.

Philadelphia.

FARMERS, TAKE NOTICE.

WE have reduced the price of our STABLE MANURE twenty-five per cent. Call and see us before purchasing elsewhere.

Pier 61, Foot of Dickinson Street, PHILADELPHIA.

446 SCOTT & ARDIS.

Mosquito Canopies AND SUMMER HANGINGS FOR TOWN and COUNTRY HOUSES.

WALRAVEN,

1105 CHESTNUT ST., PHILADELPHIA. 354

FOR THE CENTENNIAL.

A FEW SELECT GUESTS CAN BE ACCOMmodated with board in a private Christian family.

Large Choice Rooms

WITH FREE CIRCULATION OF PURE AIR,

may be secured by previous engagement, either in person or by letter.

MRS. M. D. CAHILL,

No. 1216 Chestnut Street,

180 PHILADELPHIA, PA.

Philadelphia.

DR. THOMAS, COLTON DENTAL ASSOCIATION.

NITROUS OXIDE GAS.

DR. THOMAS makes a specialty of extracting teeth absolutely without pain by the aid of Nitrous Oxide. Over 63,000 persons have successfully inhaled the gas at his office

912 Walnut Street, (South Side), Philadelphia.

977

THE INDEPENDENT Mutual FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY,

EFFECTS INSURANCE on Real and Personal Property, on the strictly mutual principle, in Bristol and parts adjacent.

GEORGE W. RHAWN, President.
WATSON COMLY (Byberry P. O.), Sec'y and Treas.
MORTON A. WALMSLEY, Agent, Bristol.

1085

THE PENNSYLVANIA FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY.

Incorporated 1825—Charter Perpetual.

No. 510 Walnut Street,

Opposite Independence Square, PHILADELPHIA.

CAPITAL.............................$400,000 00
ASSETS.............................1,550,835 76

Directors:

John Devereux, Daniel Smith, Jr., Isaac Hazlehurst, Thomas Robins, Thomas Smith, Henry Lewis, J. Gillingham Fell, Dan'l Haddock, Jr., Franklin Comly.

JOHN DEVEREUX, President.
WM. G. CROWELL, Secretary. 289

J. STROUB, FEATHER BEDDING AND FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

227 E. GIRARD AVENUE,

Above Shackamaxon St., PHILADELPHIA.

FEATHERS Renovated, Bedding, Pillows, Mattresses, Quilts and Blankets constantly on hand and made to order.

N. B.—Carpets, Oil Cloths, Window Shades, &c. 601

JOHN K. WILDMAN,

No. 26 South Third Street, Philadelphia.

BONDS AND STOCKS of all kinds bought and sold.

United States Bonds EXCHANGED FOR OTHER SECURITIES.

MARIS & SMITH, BANKERS AND BROKERS, No. 18 South Third Street, Philadelphia.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES, GOLD, STOCKS, BONDS, &c., Bought and sold on Commission.

Accounts of Banks, Bankers and Individuals, received on favorable terms 26

HYGIENIC Surgical Institute, No. 242 West Logan Square, PHILADELPHIA.

Boarding Patients Received and Treated AT HYGEIAN HOME, FLORENCE HIGHTS, N. J.

DRS. BROWN AND TRALL are treating CANCERS and all similar affections with unparalleled success. Their new method is prompt, certain, harmless, and nearly painless. They will warrant every case they undertake, and REQUIRE NO PAY UNTIL THE TREATMENT IS SUCCESSFUL. Cases hitherto regarded as hopeless are curable in a majority of instances, while ordinary tumors are removed and the part healed in a few days.

The new remedy has been tested by regular physicians in various parts of the country during the last three years without a single failure. We are at liberty to refer to them, and their testimonials can be seen in our office.

Our method of treatment is certain to supersede all others as rapidly as it becomes known.

Other malignant tumors, as well as all abnormal growths of every description, are also treated with uniform success.

By the new process of transplanting or engrafting bits of healthy skin on large ulcerated surfaces, cases hitherto regarded as incurable are readily healed.

Patients who desire Hygienic diet, bathing, or other treatment for the general health, or who prefer to be in the country, will be attended to at Hygeian Home, Florence Hights, N. J. Address,

DRS. BROWN & TRALL,
No. 242 West Logan Square, Philadelphia,
406 Or HYGEIAN HOME, Florence Hights, N. J.

JACOB GLINZ, TAILOR,

1123 Germantown Ave. below Girard Avenue, PHILADELPHIA.

DYEING, SCOURING, CLEANING AND REPAIRING DONE NICELY.

Custom work made to order. 437

MILTON FADELEY, TIN ROOFER,

2004 North Front Street, Philadelphia.

ONE SQUARE ABOVE THE KENSINGTON DEPOT.

Tin and Sheet Iron Work made to order. Old Tin Roofs Painted and Repaired. Spouting and Gutters put in order.

All orders promptly attended to at reasonable rates. 435

Dyeing and Scouring Establishment, IN ALL ITS BRANCHES,

FRIEDERICH SCHUR,

1711 North Third Street, Philadelphia.

Goods dyed all colors. All goods warranted not to fade. Please give me a trial. 436

A. DREIMANN,

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in

Imported and Domestic Groceries,

414 North Second Street, above Callowhill Street, Philadelphia.

Russian Sardines, Russ Carviar, Roll Harring, Swiss Cheese, Limburger Cheese, Hand Cheese, Spiced Archovis, Oil Sardines, Salt Sardelles, Holland Harrings, Sapsago Cheese, Fromage de Brie. 438

GOTTFRIED BUCHMANN,

LADIES' AND GENTS'

BOOTS AND SHOES,

627 North Eighth Street, above Green, Philadelphia.

REPAIRING NEATLY AND PROMPTLY DONE.

All kinds of fine Shoes made to order at reasonable prices. 423

THE PHILADELPHIA Artistic Photographic Portrait Company,

Has the honor to announce the opening of their studio at the elegant rooms

No. 412 North Eighth Street,

To which the public is cordially invited.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN desiring photographic portraits of themselves, relatives, or friends, can now have the opportunity of possessing themselves of a highly artistic, elegantly executed, and beautifully finished portrait, by a process pronounced by the leading artists of continental Europe to be the most perfect, truthful and highly wrought of any yet introduced.

THE DEPARTMENT OF WATER COLORING, novel, beautiful, and elegant in execution, will be under the management of a lady ranking among the first artists of the country, and is highly commended by the press.

Having received many testimonials for the beauty, truthfulness and elegance of the portraits we have furnished our patrons, we feel sanguine that our studio will be well appreciated, as our pictures are of a high order of artistic merit, beautifully finished, and moderate in price.

Portraits photographic of all kinds executed, from the album to life size, plain and in beautiful colors.

Soliciting your patronage, respectfully yours,

422 PHILADELPHIA ARTISTIC PHOTOGRAPHIC PORTRAIT COMPANY.

SMITH & BUCKLEY, Manufacture Boots and Shoes, FOR THE PEOPLE.

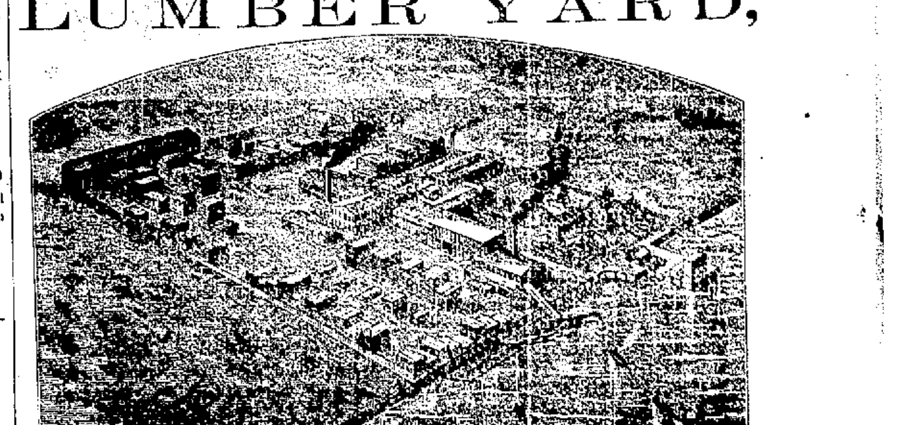
FACTORY AND SALESROOM,

203 Market Street, Philadelphia.

WE mean just what we say when we make the assertion that every one—any one—in fact—EVERY MAN OR BOY that needs a pair of first-class hand-sewed Boots, Congress Gaiters, or Low Shoes CAN NOW PURCHASE SINGLE PAIRS, CUSTOM MADE, AT WHOLESALE PRICES. (direct—no middle profit), FROM OUR FACTORY, Our large stock of Ready-Made BOOTS AND SHOES will enable us to suit nearly all. If hard to fit we will take your measure and make you a pair THAT WILL FIT THE FOOT. Open till 10 o'clock Saturday nights. 426

Philadelphia.

KEYSTONE Steam Saw Mill AND LUMBER YARD,



COAL, SAND AND LIME WHARF,

TACONY, PHILADELPHIA.

TO BUILDERS AND OTHERS:

NOTICE.—We have fitted up the Saw Mill at this point with the latest improvements, on the most extensive scale, and are prepared to supply our patrons with all kinds of Lumber, Shingles, Laths, Etc. Also, to execute Sawing of any kind to order, on the shortest possible notice. The best quality of Lehigh Coal, kept under cover, and delivered at city prices. Sand, Lime and Building Materials, furnished at the lowest market rates. Correspondence solicited and estimates furnished.

HENRY DISTON & SONS, Tacony, Philadelphia.

T. W. SOUTH, Superintendent. 253

WATSON FREEMAN. EDGAR A. MILLER.

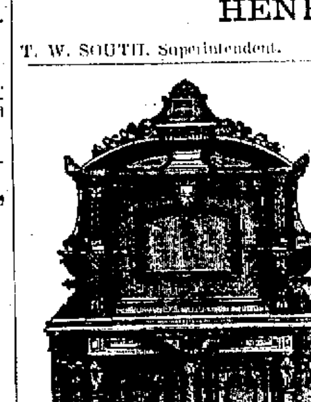
FREEMAN & MILLER,

Successors to ROBERT FREEMAN & CO.,

MANUFACTURERS OF AND DEALERS IN THOROUGHLY RELIABLE

WALNUT FURNITURE,

For Bed-Rooms, Dining-Rooms, Halls, Libraries, &c. &c. &c.



Our $55 Walnut Dressing Case Chamber Suit, three pieces, Italian Marble Tops, is selling very rapidly, and meeting with general approbation, and we especially recommend it to those wishing low priced goods. Our stock of fine goods is as complete as usual in all its variety, and our prices as low as the lowest for the same grade of goods.

FREEMAN & MILLER,

121 45 North Second Street, Philadelphia.

C. LEUTZ, FURNITURE WAREROOMS,

431 North Second Street, PHILADELPHIA.

OLD FURNITURE NEATLY REPAIRED, RE-UPHOLSTERED AND VARNISHED.

CHAIR AND SPRING MATTRESSES MADE TO ORDER. 112

JEROME LASKOWSKI,

722 Poplar Street, above Franklin, Philadelphia,

Philadelphia Shade Manufactory,

UPHOLSTERING A SPECIALTY.

Hair and Spring Mattresses made in the best manner, and Mattings, Carpets and Oil Cloths sewed and laid in the most satisfactory manner and at the lowest prices. BLINDS made and repaired. 430

D. Harman,

1937 Frankford Road, below Otis St., Philad'a,

MANUFACTURER OF

JEWELRY, MASONIC MARKS AND SOCIETY BADGES

Of all kinds.

Clocks, Watches and Jewelry repaired. Jewelry of all kinds made to order.

A. B. CONGDON & CO.,

No. 4525 and 4527 Lackawanna Street, Frankford, FRANKFORD,

Manufacturers of

GAS FIXTURES, CHANDELIERS, COAL OIL FIXTURES,

BRONZES, &c. Also manufacturers of the CRYSTAL LIGHT SAFETY LAMP. Old fixtures refinished equal to new at moderate prices. 262

JAMES HEARD,

Tin, Slate and Sheet Iron Worker.

METALLIC ROOFING, GUTTER TIN AND SPOUTING.

STOVES, HEATERS AND RANGES, FIRE BRICKS AND GRATES.

House Furnishing Goods in general. PLUMBING, GAS AND STEAM FITTING, Jobbing promptly attended to. CUCUMBER PUMPS.

151 and 153 CHURCH STREET.

252 Corner Tackawanna Street, near Railroad Station, FRANKFORD.

MOORE, YORK & HOWELL,

MANUFACTURERS OF

Fine Cabinet Furniture, UPHOLSTERY, PATENT FOLDING TABLES,

261, 263 and 265 South Second Street, Philadelphia.

HENRY YORK. [238] GEORGE R. HOWELL.

McCANN & BRO.,

Tin and Sheet Iron Ware

MANUFACTURERS,

1151 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.

Cream Kettles, Milk Pans and Tin Ware generally, always on hand, wholesale and retail. Repairing promptly attended to. 418

I. PARDO,

Cleaning, Dyeing and Repairing ESTABLISHMENT,

No. 607 South Eighth Street, Philadelphia.

Price List.

Pants,	50 cts.	Coats,	75 cts.
Vests,	5 cts.	Overcoats,	$1 00

Repairing and Altering at low prices. 403

A. W. RAND,

Sole manufacturer of "VICTOR GAS MACHINE." Patented August 10th, 1867, 121 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia.

ALSO manufacturer of and dealer in HEATERS, RANGES, BAKE OVENS, Etc. PLUMBING, GAS AND STEAM FITTING. Special attention given to Hotel work.

Refer to the following well-known parties using them: C. W. & J. Peirce, Bristol, Pa.; James Dobson, Falls of Schuylkill; St. Joseph's Convent School, Chestnut Hill; Geo. W. Hinkle, Congress Hall, Atlantic City, N. J. 65

THE LARGE NEW STORE OF THOMAS McFARLAND,

Practical Tin Roofer,

AND MANUFACTURER OF TIN AND SHEET IRON WARE,

FOUR DOORS ABOVE SELLERS STREET, FRANKFORD,

Is elegantly fitted up and stocked with a general assortment of splendid HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

Heaters, Ranges, Fire Brick and Grates to order. Tin covered over old shingles. Gravel Roofs torn off and covered with tin.

4607 FRANKFORD AVENUE, ABOVE SELLERS, FRANKFORD. 122

Removed from 729 Market Street below Eighth.

C. L. COMFORT.

Manufacturer of

THOMSONIAN AND BOTANICAL PREPARATIONS,

PURE GROUND SPICES, Medicinal and Cooking Herbs, Conserve of Hollyhock, for Colds, &c.; Composing Cordial, for Infants.

No. 17 North Eleventh Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 260

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Bucks County Gazette:

Thursday, August 24, 1876.

BRISTOL POST OFFICE.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF MAILS.

PHILADELPHIA—Closes 9.30, 10.45 A. M., 3.30 and 6.00 P. M. Arrives 8.00, A. M., 2.30, 4.30 and 8.00 P. M.

NEW YORK—Closes 9.00, A. M., 1.30 3.30, and 6.00 P. M. Arrives 10.30, 11.30 A. M., 7.00 P. M.

TRENTON—Closes 7.15 and 9.00, A. M., 1.30 and 3.30, P. M. Arrives 10.30 and 11.30, A. M., 4.30 and 7.00 P. M.

DOYLESTOWN—Closes 10.30, A. M., 6.00, P. M arrives 10.00 A. M., 8.00, P. M.

NEWPORTVILLE, HULMEVILLE, ATTLEBOROUGH, NEWTOWN, WRIGHTSTOWN, PINEVILLE and BUCKINGHAM—Closes at 10.30 A.M; arrives at 10.00. A.M.

TULLYTOWN, MORRISVILLE* AND POST OFFICES ON THE B. D. R. R.—Closes 7.15 A. M; arrives 4.30 P. M.

DOLINGTON—Arrives 10.00 A.M; closes 10.30 A.M.

THERMOMETRICAL REPORT for the week ending Wednesday, Aug. 23d.—Furnished by JESSE B. MEARS, as noted at Bristol Post-Office:

	7 A.M.	1 P.M.	6 P.M.
Th'day, Aug. 17	74	84	81
Friday, " 18	70	82	77
Saturday, " 19	70	81	77
Monday, " 21	69	70	67
Tuesday, " 22	61	75	70
Wed'day, " 23	66	79	75

SORTS.

—Bristol should organize an energetic Hayes and Wheeler club.

—J. H. Wood has put over $3,000 in silver, in circulation this summer.

—Seven persons were baptised in the Bristol M. E. Church, on Sunday last.

—100,000 people are expected to visit the Centennial on Saturday of this week.

—Hon. George Lear, has gone to Ohio to stump the State for Hayes and Wheeler.

—Dr. H. Pursell, druggist at Mill and Cedar has paid out over $1,500 in silver coin since the 1st of May.

—The Newportville Episcopal Sunday School will hold a peach festival next Tuesday evening, in the lawn in the rear of their church.

—Madison Boileau, has sold his property on the Trenton road, above Newportville, which he recently purchased of Caleb N. Taylor, for $2000.

—There were five persons baptized in the river Delaware, at Tullytown, last Sunday, by the Rev. E. H. Plummer, pastor of the Christian church.

—The ice cream establishment of Wm. Munce was burglarized last night, and cakes and eatables stolen. Mr. Munce estimates his loss at $5.

—Middletown Grange, No. 684, will hold a people's meeting at Langhorne Grove on the 2d of September. The meeting will addressed by several prominent members of the order.

—A large excursion went to "Ocean Beach," yesterday, thirty-two passenger cars being filled. The occasion was the offering of building lots at public sale. Some forty lots were sold at prices ranging from $250 to $500.

—The Bucks County Lyceum Convention held at Beaumont's Deer Park last Saturday was largely attended, over 5000 tickets being sold. The programme was an excellent one, the music splendid and every body was delighted with the occasion.

—Quarterly Meeting Services will be held in the Bristol M. E. Church, on Sunday next. Love Feast at 9.15; Preaching and reception of a large number of probationers into full membership at 10.30 A. M. In the evening, Rev. William B. Wood, D.D., Presiding Elder, will preach.

—The trees are being pretty generally trimmed in compliance with the ordinance requiring the branches to be lopped off fourteen feet above the pavement. Hereafter the lights from the gas lamps on the corners will not have such a hard struggle to make the pathway of the traveller clear.

—List of letters remaining in the Bristol Post Office, Wednesday, evening August 23d: Ella Addis, S. Beurck, Sarah Burton, Isaac Booz, Joseph Cooper, John L. Corley, Mark Daniels, Michael Flynn, Nathan Holbert, Edward Milliner, Sarah Morton, Emma Palmer, Sylvester Perr, George Rauch, Amanda Remely, Louise Sachs, Sophia Shand, Joseph A. Singley, Isaiah States, Jr., Wm. H. Wheeler, Miss B. E. Wright.

A DEATH IN THE TOWN HOUSE.—Two tramps, who were very much intoxicated, and who claimed to be man and wife, were taken charge of last Tuesday night by the officer and transferred from the corner of Mill and Wood streets to the lock-up. The woman was in such a helpless condition from the effects of her potations that a wheelbarrow had to be brought into requisition into which she was placed and wheeled to the town house. The next morning when the Constable unlocked the door he was informed that the woman was dead. A physician was summoned who gave his opinion that the death was caused by strangulation from having slept with her neck across the head of the bunk. The Coroner summoned a jury, who having viewed the body adjourned to meet again. The body of the woman was buried in the Potters' field down by the little school house beyond Otters bridge on Wednesday.

EXCURSION TO THE CENTENNIAL.—E. G. Harrison has issued the following circular to the people in this end of the county: The undersigned having made arrangements with the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for reduced fare, and also with the department of admission to the Centennial grounds for the half-price admission for organized schools, proposes to make an excursion in order to give all the children in the lower section of the county an opportunity of visiting the grand exposition on Thursday, August 31st, 1876. Trains will leave Morrisville, and stop at way stations. The reduction of fare will depend upon the number participating. Children under twelve years of age will be taken on cars at half-price. The rate of admission to the exhibition, if purchased under this arrangement, will be twenty-five cents, without regard to age, and will include directors and teachers of public schools, and pastors, officers and teachers of Sunday schools. All not connected with schools will pay the usual admission fee, but have the reduced fare on the cars. This will be the last excursion that will have the benefit of reduced car fare on this railroad the present season. Directors, teachers, superintendents, &c., receiving this circular, will please report to the undersigned the probable attendance of the schools under their control, as soon as possible, so that rates of fare can be at once definitely fixed, the number of cars engaged, &c. Further information as to time of train at stations, time of stay at Centennial grounds, rate of fare, &c., will be announced as soon as definite replies have been received in answer to this circular. Address E. G. Harrison, 44 Mill street, Bristol, and Hulmeville, Pa.

Davisville Doings.

The Enterprise which takes great interest in Gen. Davis' mill-dam, reports its gradual filling up, and then with a sarcasm slightly bordering upon profanity, makes the bold assertion that from its present appearance "the dam is scarcely worth one!" There's a play upon words worthy of Saxe.

Miss Anna D. Banes formerly teacher of Johnsville school, where she was engaged nearly ten years, is spending her vacation in this vicinity. Miss B. is now teaching at the Falls of Schuylkill.

The ice cream business locally has come to an end.

Rev. Mr. Marsh preached from the text "And what lack ye?" on Sunday evening last.

—There are no less than 5000 quack doctors in the United States, forming an uneducated and dangerous class (says an exchange) that needs killing.

Doylestown and Vicinity.

The Sunday School of the Baptist Church intended to ho'd their celebration in Hill's woods, near New Britain, on Thursday last, but the threatening condition of the weather in the morning and the heavy rain that fell during the preceding evening rendered it altogether too damp to spend a day in the woods. Sadly disappointed were many of the little ones who had been joyful over spending a day in that favorite resort, but when arrangements were made to take them and the numerous stock of good things to the Exhibition building, their faces at once assumed happy expression. Soon they were safely conveyed to that large building and spent the day in various amusements. When night began to approach they returned, having enjoyed themselves far better than they anticipated.

The Farmers' and Mechanics' Institute contemplate holding their regular exhibition on the 3d, 4th, 5th and 6th of October. Many heavy premiums have been offered, and that popular amusement horse trotting will, it is said, exceed that of any year previous.

Hon. George Lear, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, left this place the early part of this week to spend some time in stumping the State of Ohio for Hayes and Wheeler. Mr. Lear has won for himself an enviable reputation as a public speaker in this State, and we feel confident that the people of the Buckeye State will listen to him with a great deal of interest.

Miss Eliza Dunlap, one of the oldest residents of our town, died very suddenly on Wednesday night last. The evening before she seemed to be enjoying her usual good health, talking with the friends whom she met. She was a prominent member of the Presbyterian church for years, and will be greatly missed by the people of that congregation. She was buried on Monday, in the Presbyterian church ground.

The new depot which has long been wanted at this place is now in a fair way to become a sure thing. The old one is so small that the wants of those who are often required to wait for trains are not provided for. Men are now engaged in filling up the stone quarry lately opened, where the new building will be erected. It is said that the style of this depot will be very similar to the one now at the Old York Station on the main line. If this is so, it will add greatly to the appearance of that portion of our town, and be of ample size to provide all necessary accommodations.

Candidates are working like beavers to secure the nominations for the offices to be filled at the approaching elections. Nearly every day some aspiring hopeful eager with happy anticipations comes to visit us, and urges his claims with all the vim and eloquence becoming one who is sincere in the matter. The convention will be held on Monday next, when it is to be hoped that these nominations will be made to the entire satisfaction of all parties.

Hulmeville and Vicinity.

The colored camp meeting now going on at Eddington Grove, is poorly attended on week days, but on Sunday's large crowds of white people attend. On last Sunday there was about fifty whites to one black, or as the saying is, "Huckleberries and milk." This camp continues for two weeks yet, and on September 8th, commences at Langhorne's Hill. These camps are gotten up chiefly for money making purposes, and conscientious colored people will not participate in them.

Coal can now be obtained from Henry Parry's coal yard at Langhorne. A long siding has been laid this side of the depot, extending across the wagon road. This makes three tracks over the road; but the crossing is not a dangerous one, as the view up and down the track is perfect.

Kreuseman Von Elten, the Centennial Commissioner from Holland, is busy sketching and painting the scenery along the Neshaminy. He is an artist of ability, and transposes, in the winter season, these sketches into fine paintings. On being questioned about the value of his paintings, he remarked that he received two hundred dollars for a landscape view, size, 28 by 30.

As our people here patronize the new railroad now, it was deemed necessary to have a good road from here to the station, so on Monday afternoon, through the efforts of Mr. Jesse Webster, a large number of farmers, and others having teams, turned out to haul gravel. There was fourteen teams, and a quarter of a mile of the road was graveled.

On last Saturday evening, the Republicans of Hulmeville borough, held their delegate election in Johnson's Hall, electing Mr. Edmund Townsend, delegate. He attended the convention at Landsdale on Monday, and says he voted for Dr. Evans, first, last, and all the time.

The Pacific and Atlantic Telegraph Company have run a new line through this borough, much to the disapproval of our people. A special meeting of the council was called on Monday evening, and a resolution adopted, prohibiting the company from passing through the borough unless they establish an office here.

For the Bucks County Gazette.

FIRST DAY SCHOOL.

On the tenth of next month, the Friends' First Day School of Bristol, will again open its sessions in the Meeting House at the corner of Wood and Market streets. In the interval between now and then, I desire to call the attention of the managers, and those interested, to the propriety of having it convene in the afternoon at two o'clock instead of at half past eleven as heretofore. The reasons for such a change are numerous and potent, while the chief objections thereto, seem to be the disinclination of some to leave home and go to the Meeting House a second time the same day. It was also feared in the organization of the school four years ago, that if we met in the afternoon, while the schools of the other church es were in session, we would "not get scholars enough to make up a good school." This last objection amounts to nothing, as it has become evident that there are plenty of children in the place unconnected with any of the church organizations or Sunday Schools, to compose a school without interfering in any way with other denominations. And, instead of this being an objection, I rather deem it an argument in favor of an afternoon session. If there were not young people enough for us to have a school without being obliged to hold our sessions at just such an hour as to gather them in from the other schools, our services are certainly not needed. But I hold there is a work for us all to do; and my object in writing this article is to awaken thought, and to "stir up the pure mind," into an examination of the best means to promote the cause of truth. G. W. A.

AFTER A MARRIAGE ON A DEATHBED.—In 1870 Mrs. O'Brien, a widow with three daughters, married Jim Farrell, the Twelfth Ward politician, who had been a bar-keeper for her husband. In April, 1873, she obtained a divorce on the ground of cruelty on Farrell's part, brought about by hard drink. In 1875 she began to suffer from paralysis and apoplexy, which produced her death on the 30th of April, 1876. Just previous to her death, on the 3d of April, Farrell appeared at her bedside with Justice Pennie and a grave digger from the Masonic cemetery, and the twain were remarried. Immediately after the ceremony Farrell produced a will, and it was signed by his wife, making him sole legatee of her property, which amounted to $13,000, and leaving her children utterly destitute. The will was set aside yesterday.—Virginia (Nev.) Enterprise.

—The Dalrymple farm at Casselton, Dakota Territory, numbers 30,000 acres, 1,300 of which were sown to wheat this season. Harvesting was done in a week, with the aid of 9 self-binders, 12 men following each machine, and shocking the wheat as fast as it was cut. The entire cost of breaking, sowing, reaping, threshing, and marketing is estimated at $9 per acre, and as the yield averages 17 bushels per acre, the profit will reach $7,000. Next year 9,000 acres will be sown to wheat. One hundred teams are employed during the "breaking" season, the furrows turned being six miles long. If Washington thought farms were too large in his day, what would he say now?

THE REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

The Republican Convention of the Seventh Congressional District met at Landsdale, last Monday. The Convention was called to order at 11 o'clock A. M., by Mark Richards, Chairman of the Conference Committee, who announced that nominations for permanent officers would be in order.

On motion of George Lear, Dr. W. T. Robinson, of Hatboro' was elected President, and Henry Potts, Jr., of Montgomery, and Samuel H. Gwinner, of Bucks, chosen Secretaries.

On motion of E. G. Harrison, the Chairman appointed Samuel Davis, T. P. Miller, Comly Jenkins, Harry Kratz, and Mark Richards a Committee on Credentials, to whom was referred contested seats in the districts of Upper Dublin, Jenkintown and Worcester, in Montgomery county. The Committee made a report excluding representation from Jenkintown, reporting D. Shoemaker and C. T. Aimon as delegates from Upper Dublin, and H. Zeigler, as delegate from Worcester. After some discussion, the report of the Committee was adopted.

The Convention then proceeded to the selection of a candidate for Member of Congress. The following gentlemen were nominated: Dr. I. Newton Evans, of Hatboro'; H. K. Weand, Esq., of Norristown; George Bullock, of West Conshohocken; George N. Corson, Esq., of Norristown; Dr. Lewis Roger, of Upper Providence.

It was resolved on motion, to call the roll of Montgomery county delegates first. Before the result of the first ballot was announced, Mr. Jenkins withdrew the name of George N. Corson. The first ballot was as follows, by counties:

	Montgomery.	Bucks.	Total.
Evans	9	38	47
Weand	31	6	37
Royer	11	5	16
Bullock	2	..	2

There being no choice, a second ballot was scored, with the following result:

	Montgomery.	Bucks.	Total.
Evans	9	41	50
Weand	31	6	37
Royer	11	2	13
Bullock	2	..	2

There still being no choice, a third ballot was taken, as follows:

	Montgomery.	Bucks.	Total.
Evans	9	45	54
Weand	30	5	35
Royer	11	..	11
Bullock	2	..	2

Whereupon the Chairman declared Dr. Evans the nominee of the Republicans of the Seventh Congressional District for Congress.

This announcement was followed by a speech from Hon. Caleb N. Taylor, pledging acquiescence to the will of the Convention, and counselling harmony between the two counties. He was followed by the Hon. E. G. Harrison, who moved to make the nomination unanimous.

On a call for Dr. Evans, that gentleman appeared and thanked the Convention for the honor conferred, and pledged himself to faithfully and honestly discharge the duties of the office, if elected.

On motion of T. P. Miller, the Cincinnati platform was adopted as the platform of the Convention; and on motion, a committee of five members was appointed by the chair to arrange the apportionment of representation at, and to fix the time and place of the next convention. The chair appointed Mark Richards, Joseph Bosler, Morgan Wills, S. C. Ball, Harry Kratz, of Montgomery; S. F. Gwinner, T. P. Miller, Jonathan Knight, R. Harry Smith, B. F. Gilkyson, of Bucks. At the conclusion of the business of the Convention speeches were made by Hon. C. N. Taylor, Hon. George Lear, and others.

HOW THEY MARRIED 140 YEARS AGO.

A hundred and forty years ago marriage was a serious thing, and a little more red-tape was necessary then to procure the privilege than now. Charles Thompson, one of Bristol's oldest residents, has in his possession a marriage license granted in the year 1736, one hundred and forty years ago. It reads as follows:

By the Honorable

(SEAL) JOHN HAMILTON, ESQ., President of His Majesty's Council and Commander in Chief of the province of New Jersey.

To any Protestant Minister or Justice of the Peace.

WHEREAS, There is a Mutual Purpose of Marriage between Joseph Spraggs of the Township of Mansfield and County of Burlington, Husbandman, of the one Party and Elizabeth Wiles of the same place, Widow, of the other Party, for which they have desired my Licence, and have given Bond, upon Condition, That neither of them have any lawful Let or Impediment of Pre-Contract, Affinity, or Consanguinity to hinder their being Joined in the Holy Bands of Matrimony: These are therefore to Authorize and Empower you to Joyn the said Joseph Spraggs and Elizabeth Wiles in the Holy Bands of Matrimony, and them to pronounce Man and Wife.

Given under my hand and prerogative seal at Perth Amboy, the 11th day of December, in the Tenth Year of the Reign of Our Sovereign Lord, George the Second, by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the Faith, Annoq; Domini, One Thousand Seven Hundred and Thirty-six.

JOHN HAMILTON.

Entered in the Secretary's Office,
ARCH HOME, Sec'y.

Any one desiring to see the original can be accommodated by calling on Mr. Thompson, at his residence on Dorrance street.

BENSALEM, August 22d, 1876.

EDITOR GAZETTE:—Seeing in the columns of your valuable paper, a notice of a colored camp meeting being held in the woods of Mr. John Roberts, at Eddington, under the auspices of the A. M. E. Church, which is entirely without foundation—they having no connection whatever with the A. M. E. Church.

JUSTICE.

—The negro laborers on the rice plantations along the Combahee river, in South Carolina, have struck for an advance of fifty per cent in their wages. Those who are willing to work are prevented by "whipping" and other violence from doing so. As the crop will be a total loss if not harvested within a few days the situation is critical, and Governor Chamberlain has telegraphed to the sheriff of Beaufort county to summon a strong posse for the protection of the men who are willing to work.

—The Canadian authorities are advised that the Sioux now fighting against the United States sent presents of tobacco to the Blackfeet Indians in Canada, and asked them to join in the war. The Blackfeet refused, whereupon the Sioux sent a message that "when they had finished with the Americans they would come over and capture the Blackfeet country." It is said the Blackfeet number 2000 warriors.

—Mr. Steinbaker, whose wife made affidavit of his desertion of her, had a hearing before Esquire Lyndall the other day, and the evidence warranting the same, the Squire ordered him to be incarcerated in the county jail to await the action of Court.

—Both campaign committees are hard at work at the Capitol putting up and sending off documents. Scores of folders, pasters, and mailers fill the lower halls and corridors of the House wing, the Government paying a good share of the expenses. The failure of the Franking bill in the House does not appear to affect the politicians so seriously after all, as there is a law of evasion all ready in force. Members and Senators have the right to frank The Congressional Record and send it free through the mails, and it is now the plan to print on the wrappers of speeches, &c., the words, "Part of The Congressional Record—free," and under this a member writes his name. As the speeches now being distributed were no doubt once printed in The Record, the indorsement is technically right, but nobody intended the law to be used to cover the free transportation of campaign documents. It is also observed that in many cases the franking is not done by any member, but by a substitute.

HERE AND THERE.

—Berlin has a million inhabitants now.

—Montreal's population is 148,000 according to a recent census.

—The New York police force numbers 2,300 men.

—Three hundred and sixty German newspapers are published in this country.

—The wife of the Spanish minister leads the fashions at Saratoga.

—The dead in the New York morgue are photographed every morning at 8 o'clock.

—They say that David Dudley Field receives the largest fees of any lawyer in the world.

—Susan Dickinson, Anna's sister, is now one of the editors of the Luzerne (Pa.) Leader.

—The United States Fish Commissioners are endeavoring to stock the Kansas River with shad.

—Lightning struck a Pennsylvania oil well and increased the flow of oil from 10 to 80 barrels a day.

—There is more construction of railroads in California this year than in any previous period of the State's history.

—Tramps along the western railroads are so numerous that conductors and brakemen are becoming afraid of them.

—"Inlandish and outlandish suits always ready" is the announcement of a Vienna tailor who fancies he knows English.

—The Californians at the Centennial will have a celebration September 9, the anniversary of the admission of the State into the Union.

—Mr. Moody's amphitheatre in Chicago will seat 8,000 persons and will be finished the 1st of October.

—The jewels of the late Sultan of Turkey have been pledged for two thirds of their value The amount lent on the jewelry was $2,494,-6500.

—The work of restoring the tomb of Heloise and Abelard in Pere Lachaise cemetery, near Paris, has been suspended on account of a lack of funds.

—Current gossip in Vienna now is to the effect that the Emperor Joseph will abdicate in favor of his son, Rudolph, who is now eighteen years old.

—During a drunken quarrel at Yatesville, Pa., Tuesday, Charles Fay was fatally cut by Thomas Joplin, a notorious rough. Joplin escaped.

—Don Manuel de Loverdey Custanza, who recently died in Paris at the age of 32, left a fortune of $50,000,000 derived principally from Mexican mines.

—The oldest locomotive engineer in the country is probably Isaac Hull. He was born in Lancaster county, Pa., in 1798, and has been railroading since 1834.

—A man in Maine has been terribly poisoned by crushing caterpillars with his bare hands. There is a theory that the currant worm is deadly to those who handle it much.

—The Dutch cure a lazy pauper by putting him into a deep cistern, letting in the water, and providing him with a pump, that, with hard work, will just keep him from drowning.

—A third and destructive swarm of caterpillars has appeared in Middle Alabama, and the almost total loss of the cotton crop is feared. The fate of the crop, it is said, will be decided in the next ten days.

—Two ladies strolling on the beach at Tybee Island, Ga., thought they saw a lady's cloak wash ashore, and on approaching one was seized by the foot by a strange object, which when assistance arrived, proved to be a 300 pound turtle.

—"Dear me," exclaimed a lady with crimson face, from which the perspiration was oozing in crystal beads, "how provokingly cool they look!" pointing to a group of graceful figures in the statuary department of the Centennial Exhibition.

—The Burlington, Vt., Free Press says: "The sight of a hearse driven through one of our streets yesterday with a half bushel of cucumbers on top was painfully suggestive. It is seldom that so striking an example of cause and effect is seen."

—Several months ago an agent of the Fall River cotton manufacturers was sent to South America to endeavor to open a market for American fabrics. He has just reported unusual success, and is sanguine that a large trade can be established.

—The tramp nuisance is both grievous and expensive. The New York Central Railroad has been compelled to place a special guard along its line with orders to arrest all tramps found near the tracks. The recent attempts to wreck express trains have rendered such precautions imperative.

—The Adjutant General of the army states that during the last five fiscal years, ending June 30, 1875, there were 30,000 desertions from the army. During the year 1875 the desertions were 2500, or ten per cent. of the whole force. He says that, "the army being small and scattered, there is little bar to desertion."

—The grand national parade of Knights of Pythias, which took place in Philadelphia, last Tuesday, was one of the finest affairs of the kind this season. About 10,000 Knights were in line. Delegations were present from all parts of the country. With their banners, armor, and other lodge paraphernalia, the Knights made a most dazzling and imposing appearance.

—Charleston, S. C., is to be entertained with a resurrection trick on the 28th inst. One Nixon proposes to allow himself to be placed in a coffin, screwed down, and placed in a grave six feet deep. He will remain there for one hour and a half, and then, by an agency which he leaves to the public to discover, he will rise from the grave through the soil and appear before the crowd.

—The last General Assembly of Connecticut authorized the publication of centennial histories of the towns of the State, and appointed the State Librarian general editor. Two out of 167 towns have furnished sketches, and only 66 have taken the trouble to answer the circulars. This is not "making history hand over hand," as Theodore Winthrop once wrote. Is the stock of centenarians exhausted? Has patriotism run to wooden nutmegs?

—On Saturday night, an attempt was made to wreck an express train near Lincoln Creek bridge, a few miles from Rochester, N. Y. A rail was so placed as to make it almost certain that the train would be thrown down an embankment seventy-five feet high. A man walking along the track discovered the villians at work and notified a farmer, who stopped the train just in time by swinging a red lantern. About one hundred passengers where on the train.

—President McCosh, of Princeton, has come out in strong and determined opposition to college regattas, which he considers more demoralizing than horse races. Dr. Cuyler, of Brooklyn, takes the same view, and says that the sons of religious parents, when they go to Saratoga, patronize John Morrissey's establishment in such a way as ought to awaken the solicitous inquiry of every parent who has a son within reach of its baleful influence.

—A new swindle consists in writing to some well-known actor in New York requesting a loan, forging the name of a minor actor or actress to the letter, and giving as an address a place where the supposed beggar is not staying. The actor in New York recognizes the name as that of a casual stage acquaintance, and sends the money. The swindler gets the remittance, and the man or woman whose name has been surreptitiously used never knows of it. Alexander Balfour of Cincinnati, has been arrested for obtaining $20 from W. J. Florence in that way.

—The re-appearance in magazine literature (after several years' absence) of Mr. Donald G. Mitchell ("Ik Marvel") will be of interest to the lovers of "Dream Life" and "The Reveries of a Bachelor." His three papers on the Centennial Exhibition under the title of "In and about the Fair" are to be printed in Scribner's Monthly for September, October and November. They derive additional value from the fact that the author is one of the judges of the Exhibition. The editors hint of other good things in these number.

—Thomas Winans, of Newport, R. I., is having an organ built that has some novel devices. It is an open-air church organ, the case forming an octagon shaped house, with three windows with shutters that can easily be closed and opened, to increase or decrease the volume of sound. The wind is supplied by a steam engine, and the entire connection between pipes and keys is electrical. The wind power is three times the ordinary pressure. A Morse telegraph connects the organ with Mr. Winans' house, a distance of 350 feet.

—A south bound freight train on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad was wrecked by the breaking of an axle near Stemmer's Run, nine miles from Baltimore, at three o'clock yesterday morning. The wreck was fired by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp and several cars, including two new passenger coaches for a Virginia company, were burned. Eight or ten trains, freight and passenger, were detained by the obstruction. The early passenger train from Baltimore dashed into the rear of a delayed freight train, and the express messenger, news messenger and fireman were slightly injured, but no passenger was hurt. The tracks were cleared in a few hours.

—Tilden and Hendricks, it seems, have two more letters to write that will tax their ingenuity quite as much as any they ever wrote. The Executive Committee of the Soldiers' National Reunion to be held at Caldwell, Ohio, Sept. 5, have invited them to attend, and, if they cannot attend, to answer by letter to be read to the soldiers at the Reunion. The soldiers close their letter of invitation in these significant words: "Please have the kindness to answer completely to the soldiers of the Union, by letter if you cannot come, and by speech if you can come, this single question, 'What did you, or either of you, ever do or say, from 1861 to 1865, to advance the interests of that cause whose triumph we are to celebrate at our approaching Reunion?'"

—Commodore Vanderbilt was once advised "to get the law" of a certain matter. "Law!" he exclaimed; "why I have the power already." Long before the famous Erie litigations fell into such a hopeless tangle that he and Mr. Drew were compelled to settle their quarrel themselves, he had conceived a great contempt for the courts of justice. His first experience in the courts was in the course of the steamboat litigations which grew out of the charters granted to Fulton and Livingston by the New York Legislature, and which Chief-Justice Marshall brought to an end in 1824 by deciding that a State could not grant an exclusive right of navigation. Capt. Vanderbilt in 1818 took command of the steamboat Bellona of the New York and New Brunswick line, which was chartered by the New Jersey Legislature. The Troy Press describes his first appearance in court: "He was arrested by the Sheriff of New York on an attachment as for contempt, and brought before the awful presence of the great Chancellor Kent at Albany to answer to the charge of violating an injunction awarded in the case of John R. Livingston against Aaron Ogden and Thomas Gibbons, prohibiting Gibbons, his agents and servants from navigating with any boat or vessel propelled by steam or fire the waters in the Bay of New York or in the Hudson River between Station Island and Bowles Hook. The Chancellor held that as Vanderbilt was not in the employment of Gibbons, and as Gibbons had not been running the Bellona since the injunction was served, and that as no collusion had been shown between Gibbons and Tompkins, Vanderbilt must be discharged from the attachment with costs.

—The Helena (Mon.) Herald of August 9th, gives the following account of the bursting of the reservoir on Ten Mile Creek: "The reservoir must have broken about 8 o'clock in the morning, as the flood swept away the mill and building about 4:15 o'clock. The first appearance of the torrent was a grand sight. It came down the gulch in a solid column 30 to 40 feet in height, with a breast of from 100 to 200 feet, bearing on its front enormous masses of uprooted trees, whose crackling branches and straining trunks, added to the roar of the waters, made the sound almost indescribable. After that came the awful swirl of waters—a continuous maelstrom in fact—in which was borne along the debris left by the front of the flood, and the view immediately passed to the horrible. For the next half hour no pen can describe it. It was a seething, boiling mass, fearful to look upon, the wave of whose onward rushing was relieved every second or two by a booming sound like distant thunder, when some enormous bowlder was washed from its bed and struck on solid bed-rock. The strength of the flood lasted about three-quarters of an hour, when it commenced to gradually subside, and by 7 o'clock both Ten Mile and Beaver Creeks had but little more than their usual bodies of water."

—It has been reserved for a Colorado correspondent of The Boston Traveller to tell the biggest grasshopper story of the season. Under the date of Aug. 2, Platteville, he writes: "About 10 o'clock in the morning our attention was called to a rumbling, dismal sound, as of many earthquakes, and immediately the air was darkened, the sun hidden from view by myriads—thousands of bushels—of these terrible insects, which in a few moments began to settle down upon the gardens and fields in every direction. For an hour or two all hands, men, women, and children, sallied forth, armed with every conceivable weapon, to fight the hoppers off our garden. But all in vain. While we men were driving off the one thousand billions, four times as many more would settle down behind us, over and all around us until in utter despair we were glad to beat an inglorious retreat to the house. They filled and covered everything. The vegetation, the earth, fences, stables, house and all, were literally black or brown with them, and in the ditches and hollows they lay or crawled from two to four inches deep."

—The African Church, one of the landmarks of Richmond, is being leveled with the ground. It was erected before 1800, for the First Baptist congregation, but has been occupied since 1841 exclusively by colored people. It was frequently used for public meetings, and Henry A. Wise, John Minor Botts, John Letcher, R. M. T. Hunter, John Tyler, Wm. C. Rives, Judah P. Benjamin, Jefferson Davis, Gov. Foote, Robert Toombs, Judge Underwood, Edward Everett, Henry Wilson, Gerrit Smith, and Horace Greeley have spoken from its platform. During the last days of the Southern Confederacy Jefferson Davis and Judah P. Benjamin addressed a large mass meeting within its walls, and strove to postpone the inevitable hour of surrender.

A WHIRLWIND IN CONNECTICUT.—On the place occupied by James and A. Hall, in Ellsworth, on Thursday, one Myron Kellogg, an old Schatacook Indian, whose weight does not exceed eighty-five pounds at most, was in the hay field conversing with Mr. Albert Hall, and a whirlwind twisted him around two or three times and finally raised him from the earth, carrying him up a distance of about thirty feet, spinning him round like a top, and finally dropping him in a swamp hole near by almost uninjured, but burying him to the waist in the mud.—Salisbury News.

☞ We call attention to the advertisement of the shoe manufactory of Smith & Buckley, No. 203 Market street, Philadelphia, they are retailing shoes at wholesale prices. It will pay our readers to give them a call.

☞ Cream Tarter is cheap, and ought to be used strictly pure. Dr. Pursell sells it at 70 cents per pound, and allspices, entirely without adulteration, as low as inferior goods are usually sold.

☞ For cholera morbus or pain in the stomach or bowels, no better remedy can be used than Pursell's cholerine mixture; it also cures diarrhea quickly.

☞ Pursell's Fever and Ague Mixture is more sold than any remedy of the kind in this part of the county, for the reason that it always cures.

☞ We respectfully call the attention of our readers to the advertisements of the Philadelphia Photographic Company in our columns.

☞ John R. Boyd sells the celebrated Gray Eagle fine cut tobacco.

☞ Condensed milk at Dr. Pursell's.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF MARIS & SMITH.
Bankers and Brokers,
18 South Third Street, Philadelphia,
Tuesday, August 22, 1876, 4 o'clock P. M.

DEAR SIR.—The market has been weak to-day, the principal drive being against Lehigh Navigation, the other shares sympathizing with it Not long after the first session of the board, it was announced that the Lehigh Navigation Company had made a dividend of seventy-five cents a share, but as this reduction had been pretty well discounted it had not much effect upon the stock. Later, however, came the news from New York that the coal combination had been broken up, followed by a decline in the coal stocks there

Lehigh was broken down to 16⅛, and the other list sympathized, though at the close there is a better feeling, the market closing steady.

Pennsylvania R R. opened at 49⅛, but dropped to 49, closing 49 to ⅛.

Reading R R. sold largely at 44 s. 60, closing 44 to ⅛. It was still sustained by the old party, and the idea seems to gain ground that McCalmont is the buyer. If this is so, and he means to take all the stock that he has bought off the street as soon as it comes due, there may yet be lively times for the bears.

Lehigh Navigation opened at 38⅛, and went to 39. From this it dropped to 30⅛, but closes 36⅛-⅛.

Titusville was but little noticed, selling at 10⅛-⅛, and ending 9⅞-10.

Hestonville was also neglected, and closes at 25 bid.

Gold opened at 10⅛, and closed at the same; with intermediate sales at 10⅛.

In New York the market was more or less feverish, all day pending the action of the coal combination. The announcement of its dispensation caused a temporary decline in the coal railroad stocks, but at the close the market improved and with the exception of Jersey Central, ended at about the highest figures of the day.

Money in New York closes 1½ per cent.

Yours truly, MARIS & SMITH.

PHILADELPHIA CATTLE MARKET.
Monday, August 21, 5 P. M.

There was a very dull market for Beef Cattle and prices were barely sustained. The receipts aggregated 3800 head. Sheep—Receipts, 11,000 head. The demand was steady at about 4¼a5½c. per lb. Hogs.—Receipts 3500 head. There were sales to a fair extent at $9 a $9.50 for corn-fed, the latter for extra Chicago.

FARMERS' HAY AND STRAW MARKET for the past week: Loads of Hay, 287; Straw 73 loads. Average price during week: Prime Timothy, $1 00 to $1 10; Mixed, 70c. to 85c.; Straw 70c. a 90c. per 100 lbs.

☞ As fall approaches I desire to begin to make arrangements to receive my fall stock of Dry Goods, which I hope to make more extensive and varied than ever before; in order to do this I wish to close out the balance of my spring and summer stock by making a very liberal deduction.

Plaids, Alpacas, Debeges and Cashmeres that I have sold at 25 cts. are reduced to 20 cts.

Ladies Hats, Sun Umbrellas being reduced in prices.

Light Delaines at 10c yard.

Number of pieces of Lawn at 6c yard.

Just opened to-day, a large stock of Muslin in bleached and unbleached, some of which I am offering still lower in prices. 40 inch sheeting 10c. a yard; 9-4 and 10¼ bleached sheeting at 25 cts. a yard.

Good Bleached Muslin at 6c. a yard.

A large assortment of Trunk's, Travelling Bags and Straps for summer tourists.

A complete line of fine Groceries.

Fresh Tub Butter from Hunterdon county New Jersey, received twice a week.

J. WESLEY WRIGHT,
Next to Canal Bridge,
Mill Street, Bristol.

☞ We call the attention of our readers to the notice of Dr. Alburger in our columns.

Special Notices

DR. SCHENCK'S STANDARD REMEDIES.

The standard remedies for all diseases of the lungs are SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SCHENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC, and SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS, and if taken before the lungs are destroyed, a speedy cure is effected.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The Pulmonic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs; nature throws it off by an easy expectoration, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off; the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To enable the Pulmonic Syrup to do this, Schenck's Mandrake Pills and Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver. Schenck's Mandrake Pills act on the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved.

Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative: the alkali of which it is composed mixes with the food and prevents souring. It assists the digestion by toning up the stomach to a healthy condition, so that the food and the Pulmonic Syrup will make good blood; then the lungs heal, and the patient will surely get well if care is taken to prevent fresh cold.

All who wish to consult Dr. Schenck, either personally or by letter, can do so at his principal office, corner of Sixth and Arch streets, Philadelphia, every Monday.

Schenck's medicines are sold by all druggists throughout the country.

DEATH TO WORMS.

DR. ALBURGER'S WORM SYRUP is pleasant to take and is recommended by all physicians. It has saved the lives of thousands of children and no family should be without it. Prepared only by DR. ALBURGER, Corner of Third and Thompson, Philadelphia, proprietor of ALBURGER'S German Dyspepsia Bitters and Worm Syrup.

Advice at the office gratis.

For sale by Druggists and country store keepers. 446

ROGERS' MAGNETIC OIL AND LIVER PILLS,

WILL Cure Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Dyspepsia, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Diseases of the Kidneys, and Fever and Ague.
DR. S. ROGERS, Proprietor,
No. 206 Dock Street, Philadelphia, Pa.
Sold by druggists and dealers in Patent Medicines. 5

New Advertisements.

Timothy Seed.

1000 BUSHELS PRIME NEW TIMOTHY SEED. For sale by ALFRED VANDEGRIFT,
523 Eddington, Bucks County, Pa.

TWENTY DOLLARS REWARD.

LOST.—ON TUESDAY, AUGUST 22d, in going from Eugene Highland's to John McOwen's store on Mill street, FIFTY DOLLARS. Return to A. K. JOYCE, Bristol Water Works and receive the reward. 526

COE, WETHERILL & CO. NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING AGENTS

Receive Advertisements for this paper, at their office, 607 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia.

For Sale or Rent.

AN EIGHT-ROOM DWELLING on Dorrance Street below Penn. Apply on the premises. RICHARD HEPWORTH. 507

Estate Notice.

ESTATE OF SARAH R. BROWN, late of Bristol township, Bucks County, deceased.—All persons indebted to said Estate are requested to make immediate payment, and those having demands against the same to present them in proper order for settlement without delay, to WILLIAM L. BROWN, Executor.
Emilie, August 12, 1876. 508

For Sale or to Let.

TWO DRESSED STONE HOUSES ON JEFFERSON AVE Price, $6,500. Rent, $600. Houses of all descriptions for sale
216 JOSHUA PEIRCE.

FRANK P. ADAMS,
GENERAL INSURANCE AGENT,
No. 10 Wood Street.
501 BRISTOL, PA.

For Rent.

FOUR NEW HOUSES on Penn street for Rent at $9 per month. Possession given immediately. Apply to
CHARLES BANES,
502 Market Street, Bristol.

Will Sell at a Sacrifice.

HOUSE ON RADCLIFFE STREET, near Catholic Church. Very easy terms. Will trade for vacant lots or farm lands.
440 J. H. WOOD, 58 Mill Street.

MISS MERRIAM'S
Family and Day School for Girls,
AT BRISTOL, PA.,

WILL OPEN SEPTEMBER 13 Thoroughly competent teachers have been secured for the different departments of instruction. For circulars, address MISS A. MERRIAM, 249 Bristol, Penn.

Friends' School
For Boys and Girls,

AT BRISTOL, PA., will re-open 9th month (September) 12th, 1876
SUSAN A. MITCHELL, Principal.

For circulars and further information apply to either of the undersigned School Committee: Samuel Swain, Chas T. Iredell, Anthony Swain, George W. Adams, Anna Warner, Sarah H. Peirce, Caroline S. Wood, Mary Buckman. 4 9

JOSEPH MILTENDERFER,
MERCHANT TAILOR,
1243 North Second Street, below Oxford, Philadelphia.

I WOULD respectfully call the attention of my friends and the public in general, that I have opened the above store, where I intend to keep a full stock of CLOTHS, CASSIMERES AND VESTINGS constantly on hand, and make them up at the lowest cash prices. Particular attention given to the making of Pantaloons. A perfect fit guaranteed in all cases. The best $5 Pants in the City, made to order.
Respectfully yours, JOSEPH MILTENBERGER.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited. 524

PATRONIZE THE NEW BOOT AND SHOE STORE.
F. A. KORNECKER,
Practical Boot and Shoe Maker,
535 North Eighth St., under the Handel and Haydn Hall, Philadelphia.
BRANCH STORE—N. E. CORNER NINTH STREET AND FAIRMOUNT AVENUE.
Your patronage is respectfully solicited. 525

CHARLES REICHLE,
Confectionery, Pie and Cake Bakery,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,
1116 N. Second Street and 1113 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.
A large assortment of Foreign and Domestic Fruits constantly on hand. Nuts in season.
Country storekeepers in want of Candies of all kinds will find my prices very low. 526

Philadelphia.

Having Very Much Enlarged Our Store
We have now as complete and well-selected a Stock of
FURNITURE, FOR PARLORS, CHAMBERS, DINING ROOMS, LIBRARIES.
BEDDING, FEATHERS, MATTRESSES, SPRING COTS, BEDS, BOLSTERS, PILLOWS, TICKS, &c., &c.
BED CLOTHING, BLANKETS, QUILTS, COUNTERPANES, COMFORTABLES OF COTTON, WOOL OR DOWN, SHEETS, PILLOW CASES, &c., AS CAN BE FOUND IN PHILADELPHIA.
AMOS HILLBORN & CO.,
312 21 & 23 North Tenth Street, Philadelphia.

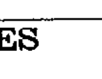
ALBERT M. PRICE,
MANUFACTURER OF
Walnut Chamber Suits,
OF EVERY STYLE.
Factory: 1846 North Sixth Street,
Office and Warerooms, 1844 Germantown Ave.,
PHILADELPHIA. 400

LYNFORD HELLERMAN,
DEALER IN
Gentleman's Furnishing Goods,
HATS AND CAPS,
Canes, Umbrellas and Notions,
4540 Frankford Avenue,
UNDER DR. CRANKSHAW'S DENTAL ROOMS,
259 FRANKFORD.

B. F. WHITE,
PAPER HANGER,
No. 2 Girard Avenue, One Door west of Frankford Road,
PHILADELPHIA.
Personal attention given to all orders in city and country.
☞ Satisfaction guaranteed. 506

EVERY MAN TO HIS TRADE.
LEDYARD,
THE PRACTICAL HATTER,
No. 2125 North Front Street, Philadelphia.
N. B.—SILK AND FELT HATS made to order, and guaranteed to fit. Old Hats renovated. Mourning Bands put on at short notice. 439

HENRY H. SHEIP,
Manufacturer of
CIGAR BOXES,
1902 Germantown Avenue, Philadelphia.
All orders by mail promptly attended to Manufacturers of Cigars in want of Boxes, will find I can sell them cheaper than any establishment in the city. 401

Beautiful Coral Rubber Teeth.


$5 TO $8 PER SET, GUARANTEED.
IMPRESSION IN THE MORNING, TEETH IN THE EVENING.
Gas 50 Cents per Tooth. Old Sets Repaired equal to new.
276 East Cumberland St., Philadelphia. 510

BUY YOUR GROCERIES
OF
R. K. BARRETT,
462 North Second Street,
A FEW DOORS BELOW THE RED LION HOTEL, PHILADELPHIA.
OUR TEAS AND COFFEES ARE EQUAL TO ANY IN THE CITY. 62

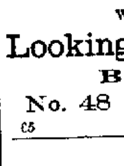
UMBRELLAS AND CANES.
Holiday Presents.
M. & A. HASSLER'S Manufactory.
634 Arch St., 3 doors below Seventh, Philadelphia.
THE finest and largest assortment of SILK, ALPACA and ZANILLA UMBRELLAS with plain and fancy handles. Storm King and other Umbrellas. Gold and Ivory Head, and Natural Wood Canes in immense variety. 111

WILLIAM MAIER,
CONFECTIONERY, ICE CREAM SALOON,
BREAD AND FANCY CAKE BAKERY,
NORTH-EAST CORNER FRONT AND OTIS STREETS.
Opposite Susquehanna Ave., PHILADELPHIA.
N. B.—Private Parties and Weddings supplied at the shortest notice. 415

JAMES PETERS,
Manufacturer of
Reveal and Shutter Strap Hinges.
SASH WEIGHTS,
ALSO DEALER IN BUILDERS' HARDWARE, HEATERS AND RANGES,
1934 North Front Street, Philadelphia. 413

PHILADELPHIA CHAIN WORKS,
North-East Corner Hancock and Putnam Sts.,
PHILADELPHIA.
PETER WALZER, PROPRIETOR.
Manufacturer of all kinds of CHAINS
FOR SUGAR MILLS, MACHINERY, WAGON, HARNESS AND RAILROAD USE. 414

NOTICE.
The undersigned takes this method of informing his friends and the public in general, that he has opened
A New Confectionery Store,
AT 214 NORTH SECOND STREET, PHILADELPHIA,
Where he will wholesale and retail PLAIN AND FRENCH CONFECTIONERY, ICE CREAM AND CAKES at the lowest market prices. Balls and parties supplied at the shortest notice.
396 ANTON ANGEMAN.



I. BEDICHIMER,
Engraver and Manufacturer of Masonic Marks,
Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, American Mechanics, Red Men, and all other Society Badges, Pins and Emblems. Also, dealer in WATCHES AND JEWELRY. No. 160 North Second St., Philada.
54

D. JARRETT WALTON,
WHOLESALE AND RETAIL MANUFACTURER AND DEALER IN Looking Glasses, Portrait and Picture Frames,
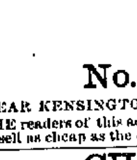
Brackets, Cornices, Tassels, Cords, &c.,
No. 48 North Second Street, above Christ Church,
65 PHILADELPHIA.

JAMES ECKERSLEY, JR.,
Practical Tin Roofer,
AND MANUFACTURER OF TIN AND SHEET-IRON WARE,
No. 4504 Main Street, above Unity, Frankford.
Stoves, Heaters, Ranges, Fire Bricks, and Grates always on hand. Jobbing promptly attended to. 142

CHAS. C. JONES,
Practical Photographer,
NO. 508 NORTH SECOND STREET, ABOVE NOBLE, PHILADELPHIA.
PICTURES taken in cloudy as well as in clear weather. Particular attention paid to taking children and copying. All Photographs are made from fine retouched Negatives. 161



THORNTON BROTHERS,
MARBLE WORKERS,
4757 FRANKFORD AVENUE, FRANKFORD, PA.
Particular attention given to Building Work.
TOMB WORK A SPECIALTY. 162

DR. FRANK'S
DRUG STORE,
No. 2033 North Front Street,
NEAR KENSINGTON DEPOT, PHILADELPHIA.
THE readers of this advertisement in want of First-Class Drugs or Patent Medicines, will find we can sell as cheap as the cheapest. Prescriptions carefully put up at all hours. 379

CHARLES M. BEERHALTER,
Practical Watch Maker & Jeweler,
2237 NORTH FRONT STREET, PHILADELPHIA.

THE SUBSCRIBER calls the attention of his friends and the public in general, that he has opened his New Store. Particular attention paid to the Repairing of English, Swiss and American Watches; also, all kinds of Clocks and Musical Boxes. All work warranted for one year.
☞ Please give me a call and bring your work at once. 380

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®
NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

From the Atlantic.

THE FASTIDIOUS GOBLIN.

BY J. W. DEFOREST.

There lived an imp of Endor,
Eternities gone by,
Who saw the Lord of splendor
Create his starry sky.

He saw the great suns stealing
From nothing and from night,
The worlds begin their wheeling,
The comets take their flight.

The mighty, mingled forces
Suffused creation's frame;
Along the astral courses
Throbbed swiftness, heat and flame.

The galaxies went singing
Adown their wondrous ways;
The universe was ringing
With gladness and with praise.

Then thought this pygmy goblin
He too would make a sphere,
And straight began his cobbling,
And wrought perchance a year.

But nothing could be fashion;
No world for him might be.
He lacked the godlike passion,
Creative love lacked he.

His work had neither motion,
Nor light, nor form, nor grace—
A wreck on being's ocean,
A blur on glory's face.

So, seeing that no creature
Of his might track the skies,
He throned himself as teacher
And dared to criticise:

The meteors were crazy,
The systems far too vast;
The milky way was hazy,
The suns were overcast.

The plan was accidental,
The start forbid the close,
The tone was sentimental,
The scenes lacked Greek repose.

In nature all was lacking,
And lacking too in art,
A little wholesome hacking
Would better every part.

The motives should be fewer,
The aim more pure and high;
And any good reviewer
Could make a finer sky.

Or, if he praised, 'twas only
The dimmest of the host;
And grand orbs shining lonely
Were those he flouted most.

And ever since his mission
Has been to blame and sneer,
Consigning to perdition
The lights God holdeth dear:

The first, the greatest critic,
The model of his kind,
The goblin analytic
Who hates creative mind.

MASTER HUMPHREYS' CLOCK IN NEW YORK

An interesting literary relic and memento of a great English author has found its way across the Atlantic to this city. The story we find in a Newark paper, the Advertiser; "The works of Charles Dickens were not wholly the product of the imagination, and many of his most touching or amusing episodes were the results of observation. The idea of 'Master Humphreys' Clock' was suggested by a clock, and until within a few weeks the original Master Humphreys' clock was to be seen over the door of the late Mr. Humphreys' shop in Barnard Castle, county of Durham, England. Mr. Humphreys was a clock and watchmaker, and rendered great service to Charles Dickens, in supplying him with the material for his 'Nicholas Nickleby,' and it was this worthy horologist's clock which suggested to him the title of the book. The Humphreys family have in their possession a letter from Mr. Dickens stating this, and a copy of the work containing the autograph of the author. Mr. Humphreys directed, Mr. Dickens and his friend, 'Phiz,' to the school which the two travellers rendered infamous by their pen and pencil, but it was by no means the worst of those institutions. The schoolmaster had been very successful in obtaining pupils and had become very tyrannical and insulting to strangers. He received Mr. Dickens and his companions with extreme hauteur, and did not as much as withdraw his eyes from the operation of pen-making during the interview. But 'Phiz,' who did not venture to display his drawing materials openly, sketched him on his thumb-nail, and reproduced him so exactly, that soon after the appearance of the novel the school fell off and was ultimately deserted. Since that period the 'Do-the-boys' description of school has altogether ceased in the district, although many of the prison-like structures still remain. The clock was recently purchased by the eminent and wealthy firm of leather factors, George Angus & Son, of Newcastle and Liverpool, England, and has been sent by them as a present to Isaac H. Bailey, of New York, who received it on Friday last. It was at first intended that the clock should be placed in the Centennial Exhibition, but owing to the lateness of its arrival this matter has been left entirely to the discretion of Mr. Bailey. It will be placed to-morrow in the office of its owner, No. 17 Spruce street, where it will tick out the hours and minutes with the same regularity that characterized it in its honored place in front of the shops of Master Humphreys; there it will permanently remain, unless it should be sent for a period to the Centennial. The clock is a solid structure, with a dial two feet in diameter, and the hours are marked in yellow Roman numerals on a slate-colored ground. A massive pendulum swings beneath, and heavy weights move the works. The oaken case, which is associated with the clock, does not accompany it, either because it was too bulky for convenient transportation, or because it was an accessory introduced by the fertile imagination of the author which is probably the fact." As to the case, (the case of the clock,) the Home Journal learns, upon inquiry, that a new one, similar to the old, is now being constructed, and it will be in position and the clock in running condition in a few days. At present the clock is not to be seen at the place indicated, being now in the hands of mechanics for the purpose of having a case made and fitted."—Home Journal.

WHEN DID YOU LEAVE HOME.—One day last week Senator Oglesby, of Illinois, and Representative Foster, of Ohio, called at the Interior Department to see the Secretary. Mr. Chandler not being in at the time they were ushered into the presence of the Assistant Secretary, who was acting in his stead.

The Senator introduced himself as "Mr. Oglesby, of Illinois," and his companion as "Mr. Foster, Ohio." The usual greetings were exchanged, a few common-place remarks passed, and the A. S. straightening himself back in his chair inquired:

"Well, gentlemen, when did you leave home?"

The two honorables looked at each other a moment, but the joke was too good to hold. Bursting into a hearty laugh, Mr. Foster slapped the Senator on the shoulder and exclaimed; "So this is fame! A general in the Federal army, Governor of your state, a United States Senator, and yet not known by a high government official. Oh, pull down your vest."

The story went the rounds rapidly, and the Assistant Secretary's question promises to become famous. Senators while passing backward and forward through the halls and corridors of the capitol are won't to be stopped by some intimate friend or colleague, who with a surprised face and wondering air, extends a hand and inquires, "Why, when did you leave home?"—Washington Chronicle.

DIDN'T UNDERSTAND IT.—Perhaps if that box hadn't been in the way he would have gone by without tumbling down into the basement. When they separated him from what was once a respectable beaver, he sadly said:—

"I suppose if I was Commodore Vanderbilt there would be half-a-dozen carriages at the door ready to convey me home, and a score of newspapers reporters asking me how I felt. But because my name is Joe Morgan, I have to go unhonored and unwept."

He slowly went out, and as he did so a bottle dropped out of his pocket and broke on the stone steps. He regarded it a few moments in silence, and then tragically uttered:

"And thou, too, the sole remaining link of all that bound me to myself, art thou, also, gone? Oh! heavings! have I deserved all this?"

He expects an answer by the next mail.

Not far from Claremont, N. H., there is a quaint mansion that was built over a century ago, and in the parlor hangs an oil painting of the Queen of the Scythians ordering the head of Cyrus to be plunged into a vase filled with blood. This picture belonged to a French nobleman, living in Santo Domingo, whose house was burned during the massacre of 1791. He fled with his art treasure to Boston, where it was purchased for the walls of this Colonial mansion. In the carriage-house near by is an enormous family coach that was fashioned in Boston a century and a half ago, with a bamboo body and axles forged by hand.

"Red hot" is not mere modern slang. The poet, Churchill says:

To feign a red hot zeal for freedom's cause,
To mouth aloud for liberties and laws,
For public good to bellow all abroad,
Serves well the purposes of private fraud.

It is now some years since Prof. Halford's system of injecting ammonia into the veins as a cure for snake bites found believers in Victoria and in the other Australian Colonies. Many lives are said to have been saved by this means.

"If the keeper of a jail is a jailer, why isn't the keeper of a prison a prisoner?" is a conundrum which, on some account or other the Providence Press is prompted to propound.

Several years ago Commodore Vanderbilt, according to the Boston Journal, being asked to assume control of another railroad, declined on the ground that he would not undertake any new business. He said that his property was all arranged and divided, and that his heirs need have very little trouble settling his estate. The same newspaper says. "Twenty men are ready to buy a controlling interest in one or more of the roads that are known as the Vanderbilt lines. One man who keeps a large bank account has, it is said, twenty millions on deposit ready for the exigency that may arise any hour."

Sheriff Connor of New York, from whose kind care Wm. M. Tweed was so ungenerous as to abscond, has transmitted to the Attorney General a communication in the nature of a return in the matter of the execution against Tweed in the seven millions dollars' judgment rendered by Judge Westbrook, to the effect that he can find no property now held in the name of Mr. Tweed, and asks instruction in relation to property which has recently been transferred from his nominal ownership, with a view to the suits for their replevin if advisable, lis pendens having been originally filed in the Sheriff's office in the premises.

The body, too has its rights: and it will have them. They cannot be trampled upon or slighted without peril. The body ought to be the soul's best friend, and cordial, dutiful helpmate. Many of the studious, however, have neglected to make it so; whence a large part of the miseries of authorship. Some good men have treated it as an enemy; and then it has become a fiend and has plagued them as it did Antony.—Julius C. Hare

That is good point which Judge Countryman and others are making against Gov. Tilden. If he is so confident of his ability to bring about resumption within a short period, why is he so eager for the repeal of the Resumption act which does not take effect until two years after the next President is inaugurated?

Buddhism in Japan is declining. In a single district or ken seventy-one temples have since 1873 been converted into dwelling houses or used for other secular purposes. During the last six years upward of 698 temples have thus been been diverted from their original object.

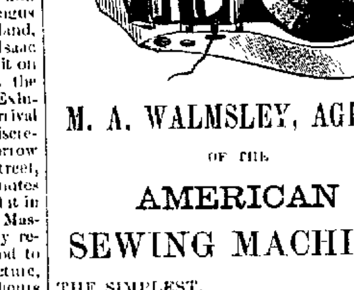
How the best state to know?—It is found out
Like the best woman?—that least talked about.

Bristol.

CHEAPER THAN EVER.

LADIES' LINEN SUITS, $1 75, splendidly made, Children's Linen Suits, $1 35, Ladies' Tucked and Embroidered Skirts, $1.00. Ladies' Embroidered Basques, $1.00; Ladies' Chemises, from 55 cts. up. Ladies' Calico Pleated Waists, 50 cts.; Ladies' Hose, 10 cts; large line ladies' Underclothing, very cheap; Table Covers, 50 cts up. splendid Table Linen, 21 cts. yd. Large lot Walnut Picture Frames, 18 cts up; Oval Frames, 20 cts. Just received, large line of China and White Ware, we are offering very cheap. Ice Cream Saucers, 25 cts. dozen; Cups, 2 cts., &c. Gents' Goods in great variety. Splendid Percale Shirts, two Collars, done up in latest style, only 85 cts; warranted all linen bosom Dress Shirts, $1.00; splendid Calico Shirts, 51 cts; boys' White Linen Suits—pants, coat and vest, only $1.60; good Linen Coats, men or boys, 60 cts., strong Working Pants, 85 cts, better goods at very low figures, Suspenders, Collars, Cuffs, Neckties, Bows, &c., best Spool Cotton, 6 cts.; Black Tea, 35 and 40 cts. lb.; splendid Tea Siftings, 7 cts. qr., 25 cts. lb., Rio Coffee, 22 cts. lb.; good Coffee, 18 cts. lb.; Pepper, 7 cts. qr.; Mason's or Gem's Fruit Jars, $1.50 doz., ½ gal. $1.65 doz; splendid Tumblers, 55 cts. doz; good Louisville Navy Tobacco, 70 cts lb.; Cigars, $1.50 box; Shoe Brushes, 15 cts.; splendid colored Counterpanes, $1.50; men's Undershirts, 25 cts; Half Hose, 8 cts; good Washing Soap, 5, 4 and 6 cts., Castile, 3 cts. Toilet Soap, 3, 4, 5 and 10 cts; Wash Blue, 2 boxes for 5 cts., lot Sheet Music, 10 cts.; ladies' Back Combs, 10 cts.; Starch, 8 cts. lb., Rice, 8½ cts. lb.; splendid Syrup Molasses, 55 cts.; New Orleans Molasses, 65 cts. gal.; Collars, 5 cts. box. Goods sold wholesale and retail at prices which compete with the cheapest city stores—BUT FOR CASH.

WOOD'S CHEAP STORE,
Mill Street, Bristol.
933



M. A. WALMSLEY, AGENT,

OF THE

AMERICAN SEWING MACHINE.

THE SIMPLEST,

MOST DURABLE,

AND

BEST SEWING MACHINE

In the World.

SEWING MACHINE NEEDLES

OF ALL KINDS, FOR SALE.

CORNER MILL AND RADCLIFFE STS.,

BRISTOL, PA.
21

A. K. HOFF'S
BREAD, PIE AND FANCY CAKE BAKERY,

NO. 28 MILL STREET.
Second door above Cedar, BRISTOL, PA.
All orders thankfully received and promptly attended to. 389

THE SPLENDID STEAMBOAT
Nelly White

Leaves Bordentown at 6.45 A. M., stopping at White Hill, Penn's Manor, Florence, Bristol, Burlington, Beverly. Returning, leaves Philadelphia, at 3.50 P. M., stopping at the above places. 343

Daily Excursions up the Delaware.

STEAMER TWILIGHT.

ON and after Monday, May 1st, 1876, the splendid Steamer TWILIGHT leaves Chestnut Street wharf, Philadelphia, at 7 o'clock A. M., and 3 P. M., for Burlington, Bristol and Florence, touching at Tacony, Riverton, Torresdale Andalusia, and Beverly. Returning, leave Florence at 10 A. M., and Bristol at 10¼; on the 3 o'clock only as far as Bristol, leaving at 5 P. M. Fare, 25 cents; Excursion 40 cents. 295

Daily Excursions.

THE STEAMBOAT
COLUMBIA

Will leave Bristol at 7.00 A. M., and 4 o'clock P. M., for Philadelphia, touching at Burlington, Beverly, Riverton, Torresdale and Andalusia. Returning, leaves Philadelphia at 2 and 6 o'clock P. M. Fare, 25c. each way. Excursion, 40c. 253

Pennsylvania Railroad.

NEW YORK DIVISION.

On and after June 12, 1876,

Trains to and from Bristol Station

For Philadelphia.

Kensington Depot, 7:13, 7:40, 8:26, 9:20 A. M., 12:28, 4:06, and 7:21, P. M. On Sundays, 12:28 and 5:27 P. M. West Phila Depot, at 6:25 and 10:03 A. M., 2:55, 5:10, 6:40, 9:12, and 9:38 P. M.

For New York.

At 1:16, 7:38, 8:15, 9:21, and 11:47 A. M., 2:21, 3:34, 3:51, 4:31, 6:12, and 7:48 P. M. Sunday trains 9:21 A. M., 4:31 and 7:48 P. M.

For Trenton.

At 7:38, 8:15, 9:21, 11:00, and 11:47 A. M., 2:21, 2:50, 3:31, 4:13, 4:31, 5:01, 6:01, 6:21, 7:48, and 8:06 P. M. On Sundays, 9:21, 10:12 A. M. and 2:50, 7:48 P. M.

The 7.38, 11.00, A. M., 4.13, and 6 01 P. M. trains connect with Belvidere Division.

From Philadelphia.

Leaves Kensington Depot, at 6:55, and 10:15 A. M., 2:05, 3:40, 4:15, 5:15, 6:15, and 6:20 P. M. On Sundays, 9:15 A. M., and 2:05 P. M. West Philadelphia Depot, at 7:00, 8:30 and 11:00 A. M., and 1:35, 2:30, 3:45, 3:30 and 7:00 P. M. and 12:00 night. On Sundays, 8:30, A. M. 3:45, 7:00 P. M.

From New York.

At 4:25, 6:55, 8:35, and 8:25 A. M., 12:25, 2:55, 4:05, and 6:55 P. M.

From Trenton.

At 6:40, 8:00, 9:00, and 9:28 A. M., 12:00, M., 2:30, 3:40, 4:50, 6:18, 6:55, and 9:14 P. M. On Sundays, 12 noon, and 9:14 P. M.

From Philadelphia, Westward.

Trains leave West Philadelphia for Harrisburg Pittsburg and the West, at 8.00, A. M., and 12.55 6.15, P. M., daily, except Sunday, and 7.20, 9.10 A. M. 11.55, P. M., daily.

For Harrisburg, Williamsport, the Oil Regions and Erie, at 12 55 and and 11.55, P. M.

For Harrisburg, Elmira, Canandaigua, Niagara Falls, &c., at 7.20, A. M.

A Through Passenger Train, especially for parties moving westward, leaves Philadelphia at 12.05 A. M., daily, except Monday. For passage by this train, application should be made to Francis Funk, Agent, 116 Market Street, Philadelphia, where first-class and emigrant tickets can be obtained.

For further information see time tables, which can be obtained at the ticket office.

F. THOMSON, Gen. Manager. D. M. BOYD, Jr., Gen. Pass. Agent.
G. W. BARKER, Supt. N. Y. Division.
F. W. JACKSON,
60 Gen. Supt. U. R. R. of N. J. Division.

Bristol.

Which Plan is the Best?

THE COMMERCIAL
Insurance Company

INSURES DWELLING HOUSES, STORES,

&c., &c.,

(No hazardous risks taken.)

ON EITHER MUTUAL OR STOCK PLANS.

In the Mutual Plan the fees are fixed at a rate that will meet all expense and the average loss by fire. The policies being liable to assessment in case of extra losses.

The Stock Plan is upon the usual rates of Stock Companies, with no liability for assessment.

Full particulars given. Apply at office

No. 44 Mill Street,
BRISTOL, PA.

JAMES M. SLACK, PRESIDENT.
E. G. HARRISON, SECRETARY. 740

SOMETHING NEW!

MUSIC STORE,
46 Mill Street, Bristol, Pa.

THE CELEBRATED ARION PIANO, Estey's Superior Cottage and Parlor Organs. Also the Bay State Organ. Prices from $60 to $750.

For sale by 210 CHARLES T. HARRISON.

A. J. HIBBS.
REAL ESTATE

AND

GENERAL BUSINESS AGENT,

BRISTOL, PA.

EFFECTS SALES AND PURCHASES REAL ESTATE, attends to the Renting of Houses and Farms or any business connected therewith. Personal Property sales taken charge of, and prompt and careful attention given to any business entrusted to his care. 230

CENTENNIAL.

MRS. J. C. HAMILTON would call the attention of the citizens of Bristol and vicinity to her

Dress Making

AND

MILLINERY DEPARTMENTS,

Also, Centennial Banners and Decorations of all kinds.

Also, material for making them, supplied at

48 MILL STREET, BRISTOL. 330

FURNITURE

Re-Upholstered Repaired and Varnished.

HAIR AND HUSK MATTRESSES
MADE TO ORDER AND RENOVATED.
Chairs Re-Caned. Also, Three-Ply Veneering Seats put in Chairs.

FEATHERS RENOVATED BY STEAM.
N. B.—I am now prepared to Renovate Feather Beds. I claim for the machine I use that while it destroys the germ of the feather moth, it does not injure the feathers, which the hot-air machines are apt to do. Persons wishing to have their Beds Renovated, by letting me know in the morning can have them returned at night ready for use.

JOHN F. McMILLAN,
Radcliffe Street, Rear of Presbyterian Church,
297 BRISTOL, PA.

Groceries & Provisions.

A Child can Buy as Cheap as a Man.

GEORGE C. GILLINGHAM,

At the Old Established

Grocery, Provision & Notion Store,

Dorrance St., bet. Wood & Pond Sts.

Respectfully informs his friends that he still lives and is prepared to furnish his customers with good Groceries and Provisions which in quality and price will compare favorably with anything in the market. Also a good assortment of Notions, &c., on hand. FRUITS AND VEGETABLES in their season. 19

JOHN F. KENEAGY,
DRUGGIST,

No. 63 Mill Street, Bristol, Pa.

DEALER IN ALL KINDS OF

Drugs, Medicines, Paints,

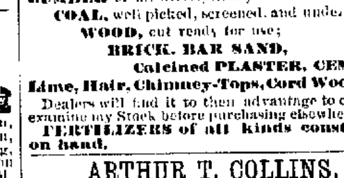
OILS, PERFUMERY,

Fancy Articles,

AND EVERYTHING USUALLY KEPT IN A FIRST-CLASS DRUG STORE.

Prescriptions carefully compounded. 261

H. M. WRIGHT,
No. 25 BATH STREET BRISTOL, PA.,



DEALER IN

LUMBER of all descriptions,

COAL, well picked, screened, and under cover

WOOD, cut ready for use;

BRICK, BAR SAND,

Calcined PLASTER, CEMENT

Lime, Hair, Chimney-Tops, Cord Wood, &c.

Dealers will find it to their advantage to call and examine my Stock before purchasing elsewhere.

FERTILIZERS of all kinds constantly on hand. 616

ARTHUR T. COLLINS,

(SUCCESSOR TO HEPWORTH & COLLINS.)

Foot of Market Street,

BRISTOL, PA.,

PLUMBER,
Steam and Gas Fitter,

Lead and Iron Pipes, Pumps, Gas Fixtures, Hydraulic Rams,

And all material connected with the trade, at lowest market prices.

Parties will do well to give me a call before purchasing elsewhere. All work guaranteed. 432

JUST OPENED!

JOHN LONGSTRETH'S
NEW STORE,

Cor. Bath and Buckley Street,
BRISTOL, PA.

A WELL SELECTED STOCK OF

DRY GOODS

AND

GROCERIES

Constantly on hand. Cheap for cash. 336

Ice Cream! Ice Cream!

AND FRUITS IN SEASON,

At WM. R. GILLINGHAM'S

Restaurant and Ice Cream Saloon,

WASHINGTON STREET, BRISTOL.

NEW MILK FOR SALE. 361

At J. Milnor's Store,

Corner of Wood and Washington Streets,
BRISTOL, PA.,

Can always be found a full line of Fine Groceries and Provisions, consisting in part of

DRIED BEEF, PREPARED HAM, BUTTER, LARD, TEAS and COFFEE,

And in fact, everything in the Grocery Line. 18

"GREY EAGLE" IS THE BEST CHEW.

Trenton.

WESTON & SWAYZE,
ARCHITECTURAL AND MONUMENTAL
SCULPTORS

IN MARBLE, GRANITE AND FREESTONE.

Devoting especial attention to Monumental Works, &c., viz:

Tombs, Monuments, Headstones, Mural Tablets, Pulpits, Fonts, &c.

DESIGNS AND ESTIMATES FURNISHED ON APPLICATION.

MARBLE YARD—Stockton Street, between Front and State Street.

TRENTON, N. J.

CEMETERY LOTS INCLOSED.—Cemetery work of every description done in the best manner and at reasonable rates. 40

A. LOWENSTEIN,
The Great Clothier,

HAS JUST OPENED THE STORE

No. 25 Greene Street, Trenton, N. J.,

WITH A LARGE SELECTED STOCK OF

FINE READY-MADE CLOTHING
And Furnishing Goods.

All Goods warranted as represented. Goods exchanged within ten days after purchase, if not worn or soiled. Our prices always the lowest in the city. Thanking the public for past patronage, we shall endeavor to please all at our New Store, 25 Greene Street, nearly opposite Taylor's Opera House.

Remember the place, No. 25 Greene Street. 310

A VERY LARGE STOCK OF Ready-Made Clothing
FOR MEN, YOUTHS AND BOYS,

SUITABLE FOR SPRING AND SUMMER OF 1876, will be offered to cash purchasers at prices that will ensure quick sales.

A FULL LINE OF CLOTHS, CASSIMERES AND VESTINGS,

On hand, which will be made up to suit the varied taste of my patrons.

J. C. VANHART,

375 82 Greene Street, Trenton, N. J.

ATTENTION! FARMERS!!

A Set of Single Harness for $20;
A Set of Double Harness for $25, warranted,

At T. C. VAUGHIN'S Harness Shop,
34 SOUTH WARREN STREET, TRENTON, N. J.

REPAIRING done at the shortest notice, and satisfaction guaranteed. 395

R. C. THOMSON & CO.,

23 & 25 E. State Street, Opposite First National Bank, Trenton, N. J.

CLOTHS, CASSIMERES, COTTONADES, KENTUCKY JEANS, &c.,

At Wholesale and Retail.

Also Merchant Tailoring. 317

C. P. BARWIS,
Merchant Tailor,

NO. 65 GREEN ST., TRENTON, N. J.

ALWAYS a good line of goods from which to select a suit, and made in the latest styles Satisfaction in every respect. 294

Furniture and Upholstery
OF MY OWN MANUFACTURE.

PARLOR SUITS in Hair, Cloth, or any color of Terry 1 Sofa, 1 Arm Chair, 1 Lady's and 4 Wall Chairs, for $60. Solid Walnut Chamber Suits, nine pieces, for $40. With Marble Top Bureau and Washstand, $70.

At A. V. MANNING'S,
30 17 Greene Street, Trenton, N. J.

GO TO

DONNELLY'S

FOR

Seasonable Underwear.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

Six Shirts for $9.00,

MADE TO ORDER.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

White Dress and Calico Shirts

READY MADE, "THAT WILL FIT."

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

NECKWEAR.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

LINEN AND PAPER

Collars and Cuffs.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

Silk and Linen Pocket Handkf's.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

Brushes, Combs and Perfumeries.

GO TO DONNELLY'S

FOR

Hosiery and Gloves.

GO TO

Donnelly's

FOR

ANY ARTICLE YOU MAY NEED

IN THE LINE OF

Men's Furnishing Goods,

Ladies' and Children's Hosiery,

GLOVES and UNDERWEAR,

All at Popular Prices,

AT RICHARD A. DONNELLY'S,

TAYLOR HALL FURNISHING STORE,

GREENE STREET, TRENTON, N. J.
344

WALL PAPER

AND

School Books,

AT CHARLES Y. BAMFORD'S,

10 E. STATE STREET, TRENTON, N. J.

WALL PAPER TRIMMED FREE Discount given to schools and teachers. 95

THE PEERLESS THRESHER and CLEANER,

ACKNOWLEDGED to be superior to any other threshing machine. Threshers and Patent Shakers, Clover Hullers and Cleaners, Lever and Tread Powers, and all kinds of Extras, manufactured by

B. GILL & SON,
Trenton Agricultural Works,
385 Near Freight Depot, TRENTON, N. J.

DR. G. W. ADAMS,
DENTIST,

HAS REMOVED TO HIS NEW HOUSE, AT the East corner of Radcliffe and Franklin Streets, Bristol, Pa., where he has nicer rooms and better accommodations. He takes this method of returning thanks for the liberal patronage of the past, and cordially invites all to give him a call.
N. B.—Out of office on Second-day, (Monday.)
4th mo. 6th, 1876. 310

I. T. SMITH,
CARPET WEAVER,

No. 90 York Street,
BURLINGTON, N. J.

WHY do people come to me from all around the country to get their Carpets wove? Why! because I am the oldest established weaver in Burlington, and my work is equalled by few and surpassed by none, and my prices are suitable to the times. Rag Carpets constantly on hand and for sale wholesale and retail. Highest price given for carpet rags 388

TURNIP SEED STILL IN SEASON.

WOODEN SCOOPS, Shovels, Potato Drags and Potato Forks, Manure Forks, Brush Scythes and Snaths, Peach, Truck and Corn Baskets, Peach Covers, Tobacco Twine, Grain Bags, &c. Plows and Plow Castings at

J. W. CORNELL & CO.'S
Seed and Implement Warehouse
88 Warren Street, Trenton, N. J.
Timothy and other Field Seeds.

Important Notice to the Public!

McCARTY & LANNING,

(Successors to H. Taylor & Son).

TRENTON, N. J.,

ARE MANUFACTURING

Oak Leather Belting,

LACE LEATHER, RUBBER BELTING, STEAM PACKING &c.,

EQUAL TO ANY IN USE.

At 114 N. Warren Street.

Manufactures Supplies Generally.

H. McCARTY. GEO. W. LANNING
404

GILLINGHAM & HOWELL,
Practical Machinists,

DIE SINKING, MODEL MAKING, AND JOBBING OF ALL KINDS DONE.

Repairing of Sewing Machines a Specialty.

ALL KINDS OF SEWING MACHINE ATTACHMENTS MADE TO ORDER.

MOORE'S MILL, TRENTON, N.J.

(Entrance on Warren Street.) 371

MOUNT & CLARK,

DEALER IN

CONFECTIONERY, FRUITS, &C.
ICE CREAM,

SODA WATER, with Choice Flavors and Cream, Five Cents per Glass.

NO. 15 E. STATE STREET.
Next door to Mansion House, TRENTON, N. J.
398

DUNN & SMITH,
MERCHANT TAILORS,

NO. 47 E. STATE STREET,
TRENTON, N. J.
Under First National Bank.

A full stock of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings, and Coatings always on hand. 116

GO TO THE
Boston 99 Cent Store,

30 E. State Street,
TRENTON, N. J.,

And look at the NEW STOCK OF WAX DOLLS, and RUSSIA LEATHER POCKET BOOKS. The cheapest ever shown in the city. 147

HENRY HIRTH,

Dealer in

BROWN STONE, OHIO STONE,

AND

North River Blue Stone.

All kinds of Job Work attended to at short notice. Particular attention given to Grave Stones and other Monumental work.

112 N. Warren St., next to Catholic Church,
410 TRENTON, N. J.

A NEW BLEACHERY.
Old Hats Made as Good as New,
AT HALF THE COST.

Hats Bleached, or Colored and Pressed, 40 cents. Hats Pressed and Altered in any style, 35 cents. The latest styles in Ladies' and Gents' Hats, Colored, Bleached and Pressed, at short notice. Orders promptly attended to.

S. A. MARBLE,
409 72 Greene Street, Trenton, N. J.

FANCY RIBBONS. BONNET FRAMES.

MRS. J. R. WOODRUFF,
Fashionable Milliner,

And dealer in

Notions, Trimmings, &c.

No. 27 Broad Street, Trenton, N. J.

Personal attention paid to custom work. 135

For Sale or to Let.

TWO NINE-ROOM HOUSES on East corner of Lafayette and Wood Streets. Price, $2,000. Rent, $180. Houses of all descriptions for sale.

217 JOSHUA PEIRCE.

Philadelphia.

DOBBINS' STARCH POLISH.

A GREAT DISCOVERY.
By the use of which every family may give their Linen that brilliant polish peculiar to fine laundry work. Saving time and labor in ironing, more than its entire cost. Warranted Ask for Dobbins'.

DOBBINS BRO. & CO.,
303 13 N. Fourth St., Philadelphia.

Basket Factory,
TOY AND VARIETY STORE,

CHILDREN'S COACHES, VELOCIPEDES,
Table Cutlery, Spoons, &c., &c.
Wholesale and Retail.
BASKETS OF ALL KINDS MADE TO ORDER.
SIMPSON, No. 339 North Second St.,
Below Callowhill, PHILADELPHIA

"GREY EAGLE" MAKES YOU HAPPY.

J. M. MASTELLER,
PRACTICAL SHIRT MAKER,

PERFECT FIT GUARANTEED.

S. E. COR. SECOND & CALLOWHILL STS.,
PHILADELPHIA

A full line of Gents' Furnishing Goods. 232

SAMUEL WAGNER'S

LADIES AND GENTS'

OYSTER AND DINING ROOMS,

69 NORTH SECOND STREET,

Two doors below Arch, (formerly 52 Delaware Ave.)

THE FINEST and BEST OYSTERS in the CITY.
121

PEABODY HOUSE,
Corner of Locust and Ninth Streets,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

CONVENIENT to all places of amusement and car lines in the city. No change to and from the Centennial grounds.

Col. Watson, proprietor of the HENRY HOUSE, Cincinnati, for the past twenty years, and present proprietor, has leased the house for a term of years, and has newly furnished and fitted it throughout. He will keep a strictly first-class house, and it is accommodation for 300 guests. Terms only $3 per day.

No bar has ever been kept in the HENRY HOUSE, nor will any be kept at the PEABODY. 355

NORTH STAR HOTEL.

FRANCIS T. PRAUL, - Proprietor

4805 MAIN STREET,

FRANKFORD, PA. 105

United States Hotel,

North-West Corner Front and Berks Sts.,

(Kensington Depot.)

PHILADELPHIA.

F. W. MEYER, - - - - - Proprietor.
120

"The Seven Star Hotel."

G. CAMPBELL, PROPRIETOR.

Main Street and Oxford Road,

Opposite Dummy Depot,

140 FRANKFORD, PA

JOHN J. SLIFER'S

LADIES' AND GENTLEMEN'S

Dining and Oyster SALOONS,

NO. 532 ARCH STREET, PHILAD'A.
58

DOCK STREET
COFFEE HOUSE
AND LUNCH ROOM.

OYSTERS IN EVERY STYLE.
223 Dock Street,
157 Above Walnut, PHILADELPHIA.

Girard Exchange
HOTEL AND RESTAURANT,

S. E. Corner Fourth and Girard Avenue,
PHILADELPHIA.

Oysters in every style, and Meals at all hours.
51 WILLIAM LINDIG.

WUNDER'S
OYSTER BAY,

S. W. Corner Second and Church Streets,

74 PHILADELPHIA.

ASK FOR "GREY EAGLE."

LADIES' AND GENTS'
PHILADELPHIA
EATING HOUSE,
S. E. Corner Seventh and Market Streets.
JAMES STANDRING, Proprietor.

Beefsteak and Potatoes, Porksteak and Potatoes, Pork and Beans, Pot Pie, Fried Eggs, Fried Ham, Cold Ham, Boiled Eggs, Cod Fish Cakes Broiled Steak and Potatoes, Oyster Soup, 10 cents each; Oyster Stews, 25 cents, Raw Oysters, 10 cents; Milk Toast, 12 cents; Buttered Toast, 7 cents; Coffee and Rolls, Pie and Milk, 10 cents each, Rice Pudding, Bread Pudding, 5 cts each; Apple Dumpling, 10c.; Cup Custard, 5 cents; Pie of all kinds, Tea or Coffee per cup, two Buttered Rolls, 5 cts each. SEGARS A good and cheap Dinner every day. 101

Swarthmore College,
TEN MILES FROM PHILADELPHIA.

UNDER THE CARE OF FRIENDS, gives a thorough Collegiate Education to Both Sexes, who here pursue the same courses of study, and receive the same degrees.

Total expenses, including tuition, board, washing, use of books, &c., $350 a year. No extra charges.

For catalogue, giving full particulars as to courses of study, &c., address

EDWARD H. MAGILL, President,
58 Swarthmore College, Delaware Co., Pa.

JOHN CARSON,

MANUFACTURER OF

WINDSOR CHAIRS,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL,
1320 Frankford Road,
Bet. Thompson and Master Sts., PHILADELPHIA.

Old Chairs Repaired, Painted and Caned with neatness and dispatch. Work called for and delivered free of charge.

Particular attention given to Making and Repairing Settees for Halls. 378

SAVE YOUR TEETH.

TOOTH-ACHE CURED.
Teeth Filled—A Specialty.
Teeth Inserted and Repaired. Badly Fitting Teeth Remodeled. GAS administered for Extracting Teeth WITHOUT PAIN.
N. B.—Sixteen years experience.
JAMES CRANKSHAW,
255 4540 MAIN STREET, FRANKFORD, PA.

THOMAS C. VAN HORN,
101 North Fourth St., Philadelphia,

WHOLESALE DEALER IN MANUFACTURED

Tobacco, Segars, &c.,

Sole proprietor of "GOOD ENOUGH,"
"GREY EAGLE,"
and other popular brands Chewing Tobacco. Our Motto "Good Goods at Low Prices. 1052

WILLIAM BLACKWOOD,
Bread, Pie and Fancy Cake BAKER,

Foot of Bath Street, near Canal Bridge,
BRISTOL, PA.

BALLS, Parties, Fairs and Festivals, furnished with ICE CREAM and FANCY CAKES at short notice and on reasonable terms. WEDDING CAKES baked and iced to order. 381

$12 a day at home. Agents wanted. Outfit and terms free. TRUE & CO., Augusta, Maine

EVERYBODY CHEWS "GREY EAGLE."

Bristol.

REMOVAL.
THE BRISTOL STOVE HOUSE,

HAS MOVED INTO ITS NEW QUARTERS, AT

Nos. 16 & 18 MILL STREET, opposite Heguet's Drug Store,

Where we keep in stock and for sale, a large assortment of

STOVES, RANGES, KITCHEN FURNISHING GOODS, &c.,

Which will be sold at prices to suit the times. OUR TINWARE is all of our own make, and every article warranted tight.

ROOFING AND SPOUTING MADE A SPECIALTY.—Tin Roofs put on over old Shingle Roofs and warranted tight. Particular attention given to Jobbing and Repairing.

All orders by mail or otherwise, addressed to

THOMAS BARNARD, Bristol, Pa.,

Will receive prompt attention.
Thankful for past favors he hopes by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the same. 82

JOSEPH SHERMAN,

MANUFACTURER OF

SASH, DOORS, BLINDS, SHUTTERS AND FRAMES,

Siding and Flooring.

MOULDINGS AND BRACKETS

IN EVERY VARIETY.

Mill—Dorrance Street, west of Railroad,

60 BRISTOL, PA.

JAMES LYNDALL,
HOUSE, SIGN AND GENERAL DECORATIVE PAINTER,
BRISTOL, PA.

NO EXTRA CHARGE FOR GRAINING.

ORNAMENTAL WALL PAINTING executed in the best manner. FRESCOING, GILDING and VARNISHING promptly attended to. All work guaranteed.

Office:—Foot of Pond Street, near Rogers' Mills. Residence—Locust St. near Otter. 353

M. V. DEY,

Dealer in

DRY GOODS AND GROCERIES.
A WELL SELECTED STOCK OF FANCY GOODS, NOTIONS, &C.,

OF EVERY DESCRIPTION, CONSTANTLY ON HAND.

MILL STREET, NEAR THE RAILROAD, BRISTOL, PA.
All kinds of Canned Fruits, and Groceries of every description, at city prices. 351

Miscellaneous.

LOOK! LOOK! LOOK!

The Centennial Harness Shop,

NEWPORTVILLE, BUCKS COUNTY, PA.

I INFORM my friends and customers that I have built A NEW HARNESS SHOP, adjoining the Machine Works of Samuel Gosllo, where I will be prepared to furnish

LIGHT AND HEAVY HARNESS

Of the newest and latest patterns. "Prices to suit everybody and cheaper than elsewhere."

"Low Expenses, Quick Sales, Small Profits."

Give me a call. REPAIRING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

EDGAR ADAMS,
NEWPORTVILLE, PA
306

DEACON'S FANCY MILLINERY ESTABLISHMENT,
94 High Street, Burlington, N. J.
MILLINERY GOODS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION FOR FALL AND WINTER.

TRIMMED HATS, Ostrich Feathers, French Flowers, Black Velvets, Ribbons, Laces and Veils, Kid Gloves, Embroideries, Silk and Lace Ties, Linen Handkerchiefs, Collars and Cuffs, Trimmings, Fancy Goods, Hosiery, Notions, &c. 140

HARNESS! HARNESS!

I INFORM my friends that I have commenced the HARNESS BUSINESS at the Old Stand, opposite the Hotel, NEWPORTVILLE, BUCKS COUNTY, PA., where I will be prepared to furnish Harness of all kinds, and goods pertaining to my line. REPAIRING neatly and promptly executed at reasonable terms. Give me a call.

WILLIAM SICKEL.
All work warranted. 307

JOSEPH S. PEIRCE,

WASHINGTON STREET, BRISTOL PA.,

DEALER IN

COAL,
WOOD,
LIME,
SAND,
BRICK,

Curb & Building Stone,

TERRA COTTA PIPES,

Chimney Tops,

Garden Vases in variety.

MEAT! MEAT!

MILTON WEBSTER,

AT THE

Corner Mill and Cedar Streets,

BRISTOL, PA.,

KEEPS always on hand a large supply of FRESH BEEF, VEAL, MUTTON, &c. Also, Smoked Hams, Bologna Sausage, Smoked Shoulders, and Prepared Meats of all kinds.

Special inducement given cash customers 28

New Meat Shop.

"DUKE" DOAN, Proprietor,

(Formerly with Hazel Hibbs,)

Corner Bath and Otter Sts.,

BRISTOL, PA.

FRESH MEATS OF ALL KINDS

CONSTANTLY ON HAND. 417

AT NO. 61 MILL ST., BRISTOL,

PERSONS IN WANT OF

TINWARE

of the best quality and manufacture, will find it at

C. C. DOUGLASS'

Stove & Tinware Store.

ROOFING and JOBBING done on the best of terms. 30

WILLIAM H. LOTT,

MANUFACTURER OF

FIFTH WHEELS,

Rear of Buckley Street,
BRISTOL, PA.

All orders by mail or otherwise promptly attended to. All work warranted. 387

GEORGE N. SMITH,
Cigar Manufactory,

No. 78 Bath Street corner of Buckley.
BRISTOL, PA.

THE best 3 and 5 cent Cigar in Bristol. Chewing Tobacco, Smoking Tobacco, Pipes, &c. 327

New Cigar Box Manufactory.

BY

T. B. CAROTHERS,

Wood Street bet. Dorrance and Penn,

BRISTOL, PA.

Satisfaction guaranteed. 285

WILLIAM B. BAKER, M. D.,
DENTIST,

43 Radcliffe Street, Bristol.

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN BY THE USE OF NITROUS OXIDE GAS.
Satisfaction guaranteed in all operations. Artificial Teeth inserted in full or partial sets. 1074

$50,000

TO LOAN on FIRST MORTGAGES,

OF NOT LESS THAN $2,000.

Apply to E. G. HARRISON,

Commercial Insurance Company,

24 Office, 44 Mill Street, Bristol.

SEND 25c. to G. P. ROWELL & CO., New York, for Pamphlet of 100 pages, containing lists of 3000 newspapers, and estimates showing cost of advertising. 287

W. W. GILLINGHAM,

Dealer in

DRY GOODS

AND

GROCERIES,

EMILIE, BUCKS COUNTY, PA.

Boots, Shoes, &c.,

Constantly on hand—cheap for cash. 350

CARPETS

Washed and Scoured for Five Cents per Yard;

AT

Livingston Mills,

BRISTOL PA. 402

C. D. THOMAS,
CARPET WEAVER,

No. 114 York Street, below Broad,

BURLINGTON, N. J.

N. B.—All work promptly done at short notice, and delivered if required. 291

BOUTCHER & SIMONS,

DEALERS IN

LUMBER, COAL;

WOOD, LIME, FERTILIZERS.
West Philadelphia Drove Yard Manure And Horse Stable Manure, Cornwell's Depot, Bucks County, Pa.

BUILDING LUMBER of all kinds on hand, or furnished to order. COAL of the best qualities, and lowest rates. 107

Bristol Mills.

FLOUR, FEED. LUMBER, COAL, &c.

ROGERS BROTHERS,
Successors to J. & A. Dorrance.

Flour

Fresh ground from the best of Wheat and promptly delivered to customers.

Feed

of all kinds constantly on hand and ground to order.

Lumber.

Seasoned White Pine Boards and Plank of all grades; Hemlock Boards, Joist and Scantling, Lath Pickets, Oak Posts, &c.

Sawed Hemlock Fencing of the best quality.

Bills for large, long or odd sized timber cut at our

SAW MILL

at the shortest notice from selected logs and at the lowest prices.

PLANING MILL.

Yellow and White Pine Flooring, Siding, &c. of the different grades, constantly on hand and made to order, which our facilities enable us to sell at very reasonable prices.

SHINGLES

In all the varieties as to size, quality and prices so that our customers cannot fail to be suited.

COAL

Of the different sizes kept dry under our sheds, well screened and free from slate and dust.

WOOD

Ready Sawed for Summer use and very cheap. CEDAR RAILS lower than usual.

Grain Bought

At the Bristol Mills, and the highest market price paid.

361 ROGERS BROTHERS.

To the Working Class.—We can furnish you employment at which you can make very large pay in your own localities, without being away from home over night. Agents wanted in every town and county to take subscribers for The Centennial Record, the largest publication in the United States—16 pages, 64 columns; elegantly illustrated. Terms only $1 per year. The Record is devoted to whatever is of interest connected with the Centennial year. The Great Exhibition at Philadelphia is fully illustrated in detail. Everybody wants it. The whole people feel great interest in their Country's Centennial birthday, and want to know all about it. An elegant patriotic crayon drawing premium picture is presented free to each subscriber. It is entitled, "In remembrance of the One Hundredth Anniversary of the Independence of the United States." Size, 23 by 30 inches. Any one can become a successful agent, for but show the paper and picture and hundreds of subscribers are easily obtained everywhere. There is no business that will pay like this at present. We have many agents who are making as high as $20 per day and upwards. Now is the time; don't delay. Remember it costs nothing to give the business a trial. Send for our circulars, terms, and sample copy of paper, which are sent free to all who apply; do it to-day. Complete outfit free to those who decide to engage. Farmers and mechanics, and their sons and daughters make the very best of agents. Address, THE CENTENNIAL RECORD, Portland, Maine.
372

$5 to $20 per day at home. Samples worth $1 free. STINSON & CO., Portland, Maine.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®